Estes' Hopes Fade

Combined Demo California Vote Exceeds GOP

By JACK BELL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A shattering California defeat by Adlai E. Stevenson opened the possibility Wednesday that Sen. Estes Kefauver might seek an alliance with New York Gov. Averell Harriman in the Democratic presidential race.

Stevenson all but blasted Kefauver out of the nomination contest with a strong showing in Tuesday's nationally significant California primary.

Stevenson now has 266 national convention votes committed to him or listed in his favor. Kefauver has 166.

On the basis of mounting returns, the former Illinois governor had more than a quarter-million vote margin over his Tennessee rival. Stevenson carried off California's 68 convention votes to put himself in front of other aspirants for the party nomination.

Stevenson was gathering better than 61 per cent of the Democratic vote but his individual total was expected to be topped by a 70-vote GOP slate supporting President Eisenhower. Unopposed, this slate ran behind the combined Stevenson-Kefauver total. When tabulation of the Republican ballots catches up, Eisenhower is expected to go ahead of Stevenson in total votes.

Returns showed:

President (D) 21,746 precincts of 24,160: Stevenson 1,041,303, Kefauver 626,030.

President (R) 20,877 precincts of 24,160: Eisenhower 1,165,535.

Conceding defeat in California, Kefauver said he would carry on the fight. However, his five consecutive losses to Stevenson in Alaska, District of Columbia, Oregon, Florida and California primaries left him little room for hope of success.

Deal Denied

While supporters of Kefauver and Harriman denied that any deal is likely between them, Stevenson leaders said they fully expect and are prepared for such a move.

In the past, the Stevenson camp has tossed out broad hints that some of Kefauver's financing may have come from friends of Harriman. Both Kefauver and Harriman have denied this.

Nevertheless, Harriman and Kefauver have remained on friendly terms that would facilitate any consolidation of their forces that might be aimed at getting the top spot for Harriman and the vice presidential nomination for Kefauver.

Stevenson Confident

Stevenson said he believes his California primary victory "virtually assures" him of the Democratic nomination for president. To a reporter's question who he now considered his strongest opponent, he replied:

"As a result of the California primary, I think that the strongest (other) Democratic contender is Gov. Harriman of New York."

Harriman was assured of most of New York's 98 votes in Tuesday's state primary but six Stevenson supporters with one vote each won places on the delegation. Harriman expects the backing of at-large delegates with 12 votes, to be chosen at a later state convention. He has picked up 13 votes thus far in other states.

Stevenson's lieutenants made it clear that with the California victory under their belt, they will go after second ballot support from delegates now lined up for Kefauver.

These include the delegations from Kefauver's home state of Tennessee and from states where he won uncontested primaries such as New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Maryland, Indiana, Montana and South Dakota. Wisconsin can't change its choice under state law unless Kefauver's total drops 10 per cent below the aggregate national convention vote.

Tito Belittles American Aid

Slav Chief Says McCarthy Move To Halt Foreign Dollar Flow 'Unimportant, No Threat'

MOSCOW (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia said Wednesday night Sen. McCarthy's resolution to stop U.S. aid to Yugoslavia is unimportant and not a threat to his friendly relations with the United States.

Tito indicated he would visit the United States—if invited.

The visiting Yugoslav chief talked informally to a reporter at a grand reception in his honor at the Kremlin.

Asked about the resolution McCarthy introduced in the U.S. Senate Tuesday, Tito replied:

"It is not important. Our relations with the United States will not suffer. Our friendship with the United States will continue as before our trip here."

Tito insisted his visit to Moscow "will contribute to better relations with the United States, with Russia, with all countries."

Commended

McCarthy proposed to cut off all U.S. aid to Yugoslavia because of "Tito's pro-Russian statements during the current visit to Moscow." McCarthy's move was commended by the Senate minority leader, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif).

(President Eisenhower said in Washington Wednesday he believes there should be a restudy of aid to Yugoslavia. Eisenhower told a news conference the United States must continue to work for peace but must have a continuous study of the foreign aid program to keep it in the right place.)

When an American remarked Tito should take a trip to Washington to make sure there was no misunderstanding, the Yugoslav leader said: "'If I am invited, why not? But first I must be invited."

Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev also spoke of improving U.S. relations in a chat with John A. Kennedy of San Diego, Calif., who publishes the Sioux Falls, S. D., Daily Argus Leader.

Kennedy remarked that after a month's tour of Russia he believed "our countries can and must get together."

"We believe that, too, and we are ready," Khrushchev replied.

Aid Battle Is Opened In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — House forces deployed for a major battle over foreign aid Wednesday after President Eisenhower said it would be "tragic" if Congress doesn't support his program.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) indicated the main drive would be toward restoration of about half the $1,109,000,000 slashed from the administration's foreign aid budget by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Although together on some sort of restoration move, there was still lots of opposition in the House to giving Eisenhower the full $4,900,000,000 he wants to carry on the mutual security program through the 12 months beginning July 1.

Rep. Richards (D-SC), chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, announced he would fight for the cut his committee approved 24-4 on May 23. Most of this $1,109,000,000 reduction was in military aid proposed for nations allied with the United States against the threat of Communist aggression.

'Too Much'

Opening House debate on the bill, Richards said he didn't think his committee "will agree to succumb to the pressures of the executive department to put that money back in here."

A senior Republican member of the committee, Rep. Vorys of Ohio, told the House, however, that the billion dollar cut is too much."

However, much opposition to the Eisenhower program was evidenced among members of the President's own party. Rep. Mason (R-Ill) spoke out against "this foreign giveaway program," and Rep. Nicholson (R-Mass) said he was for "spending money for our own defense without taking care of these foreigners."

On the other hand, Rep. Harrison A. Williams (D-NJ) described the foreign aid program as "a minimum effort in continuing the sound policy which has developed over the past decade."

Eisenhower told his news conference earnestly Wednesday that this country "must continue to wage the peace."

"We must not be parsimonious," he said. "We must support such programs as the mutual security act . . . I would think it would now be tragic not to support these programs cheerfully and adequately."

TRAILER HOUSES TUMBLED BY STRONG WINDS HERE

High winds tumbled trailer-houses about like toys and one man was injured in northern Lincoln Wednesday night.

At the Rainbow trailer park on Cornhusker Highway, the trailer belonging to the Galen Fritz family was turned on its top and slammed into that belonging to Irving Wedeking as both vehicles left their foundations.

Wedeking's thumb was slashed when his door blew in upon him. Safety Patrol officers took him to the hospital for treatment.

Fritz was on duty at Lincoln Air Force Base at the time the freak accident destroyed his home. Mrs. Fritz and her small daughter had fled the trailer moments before it was seized by the wind to seek shelter in the trailer park office building.

The Wedeking family remained in their trailer and were shaken as the Fritz vehicle smashed through their door.

Several other trailers in the park were rocked off their foundations, television aerials were removed from roofs by the wind and small porches and air-conditioners were stripped from trailers.

At a trailer retail sales firm nearby every trailer was tossed off its foundations.

Many persons in the area sought shelter in their cars as the wind rocked the house-trailers.

Flashlight Used For Operation

An appendectomy operation at St. Elizabeth's Hospital was finished by flashlight Wednesday night when the hospital's power went off during the storm.

The operation, involving a 16-year-old boy, did not require any power equipment, according to the hospital.

Power also went off at Lincoln General during the evening, but the hospital reported that no surgery was in process at the time.

Both hospitals were operating on emergency power late Wednesday night.

Blaze Destroys Farmhouse

A farmhouse located one mile west of the Lincoln Air Base burned to the ground Wednesday evening after being struck by lightning.

The Lincoln Fire Department reported that the house, a two-story frame dwelling, was occupied by the family of a sergeant stationed at the base.

Three units from the air base and one from Lincoln battled the blaze for over an hour, but the building was a "total loss" according to the Lincoln department. There was no estimate of the financial loss.

Wind, Hail Damaging During Heavy Rainfall

. . . Gales Localize Over Lincoln At Nearly 100 MPH

Severe thunderstorms swept from south central to eastern Nebraska Wednesday, leaving up to 3 inches of rain and scattered wind and hail damage behind.

Hail fell during some of the storms which moved along a line from Hasting to Omaha as the night went on.

The heaviest wind was reported at Lincoln, where Naval Air Station equipment measured the velocity at 72 miles an hour with gusts up to 96.8 mp.h.

The storms, starting in the late afternoon, first struck at the Hastings area. Some .75 of an inch of rain fell there, but 3 inches of rain was reported northeast of Hastings during a bad hail and rain storm. Winds there was measured at 40 m.p.h.

High winds heightened storms at Crete, Eagle, Elmwood, Waverly and in the Lincoln area.

At Crete the wind knocked a tree down and blocked Highway 33 north of the town. A hard rain fell there.

Sharp lightning accompanied the storms where they hit the hardest. Traffic of U.S. 6 was halted by the sheets of water pouring down in the Waverly area.

Most of the towns surrounding Lincoln apparently got the same storm, with about the same rainfall — an inch in an hour.

At Lincoln the rainfall was measured at 1.10 inches.

A windmill was downed on the Charles Connelly farm 1½ miles southeast of Prairie Home. A roof was swept from a 4,000-turkey shed at the Harold Reed farm nearby.

South and southeast of Lincoln, only light rain was reported indicating the storm moved on in a northeasterly direction toward Omaha.

But by the time the storm got to Omaha it had dwindled so that only a moderate rain of .15 of an inch fell. Wind there reached 34 m.p.h.

Strong winds knocked out communication lines with telephone long distance lines out from Lincoln to Hebron, Fairbury, and Salina, Kan. Some lines were also down between Lincoln and Hastings.

Damage in the Milford area was limited to tree limbs. Winds accompanied the downpour there.

Both Wilber and Seward reported hard rains, but no wind or hail accompanied the rainfall.

Burwell received 1.24 inches of rain Wednesday night, while Grand Island reported 2 inches after hail had covered the ground.

Twister Warning

Most of the eastern third of the state was in an area in which the Weather Bureau had warned of severe thunderstorms and possible tornadoes from 3 p.m. Wednesday to 2 a.m. Thursday.

The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. reported its main line west to Hastings was completely dead, although by rerouting calls communities in the vicinities of Hastings, Friend and Geneva continued to receive some service.

Telephone repair crews were working on the line, and service was expected to resume in a matter of a day.

Forecasters said the flow of storm-making air from the south should continue for several days and appreciable amounts of rainfall were in prospect.

'Hurricane' Wind Hits Lincoln Hard

A hurricane-force wind that almost reached 100 miles an hour lashed Lincoln with rain and hail for slightly more than a half-hour Wednesday evening and caused heavy damage.

As much as 1.10 inches of rain fell during the storm. The official Weather Bureau gauge showed .70 of an inch precipitation while the Air Base had .97.

The most rainfall was apparently in the downtown section and the south part of the city.

Trailer homes were tossed about and one was completely flipped onto its top. One trailer dweller was injured.

No other injuries were blamed on the storm.

But the high winds smashed out the control tower at the Lincoln Air Force Base and caused personnel to evacuate the tower. Plate glass tower windows were blown out.

The highest wind was measured by the Naval Air Station at 84 knots — or 96.8 miles an hour. The steady velocity was near 72 m.p.h. The Air Force weather station's equipment went out after wind was recorded at a 65 m.p.h. rate.

70 M.P.H. In City

Wind reaching over 70 miles an hour in many sections of the city drove heavy rain ahead of it.

Combined with lightning strikes, the wind littered the streets with fallen tree limbs and debris.

High water gathered in the streets when sewers proved unable to carry off the hard rain.

About one-third of the city was without lights immediately following the wind-storm, according to officials of both power services, and heavy damage was reported from fallen tree branches.

Spokesmen said power and lights would be in full operation by Thursday morning.

All three Lincoln hospitals had power failures, corrected later as emergency generator equipment was put into use. An operation in progress at St. Elizabeth's when the lights failed, was completed with light provided by flashlights.

Several hundred telephones in Lincoln were out of order according to Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. representatives, but service was expected to be available by Thursday morning.

There were many scattered reports of damage to theater marquees and plate glass store windows.

500 Calls

The Lincoln police and fire departments reported nearly 500 calls about fallen wires, trees and poles.

According to the police, six ground floor plate glass windows were broken in the Sharp Building and others were blown in at the Stuart Building and the Varsity Theater Building. The metal awning of the Federal Securities Building was blown down at 13th and N.

A party of 14 diners in the Compass Room at the Municipal Airport narrowly escaped injury when two plate glass windows were hurled outward during the storm's high point.

Police reported six auto accidents during the storm, none involving any injuries.

The short-lived storm moved into the Lincoln area after striking hard at the central part of the state. After its damage was done in Lincoln, it moved out along its continuing easterly path.

United Air Lines reported all their flights were on schedule except one — a Denver to Omaha plane—which passed over Lincoln and landed in Omaha. UAL spokesmen said the storm was localized around Lincoln.

The trailer homes were overturned at a trailer park near Adams and Cornhusker Highway.

No Planes Hurt

No planes were damaged at the Air Base, according to Gen. Claude Putnam, commander of the 818 Air Division.

The terrific winds tore off at least one-third of the 20,000-square-foot roof on the Seal-Rite Manufacturing Company plant at 3500 No. 44th, President Herbert H. Heumann said.

Water flooded the basement of new construction at Leon's Grocery Store at Winthrop Road and Ryons.

Some damage resulted and a crew of workmen were busy during the early part of the night with pumps. Leon Adelson, the owner, said the extent of damage wasn't known.

Combined Demo California Vote Exceeds GOP

By JACK BELL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A shattering California defeat by Adlai E. Stevenson opened the possibility Wednesday that Sen. Estes Kefauver might seek an alliance with New York Gov. Averell Harriman in the Democratic presidential race.

Stevenson all but blasted Kefauver out of the nomination contest with a strong showing in Tuesday's nationally significant California primary.

Stevenson now has 266 national convention votes committed to him or listed in his favor. Kefauver has 166.

On the basis of mounting returns, the former Illinois governor had more than a quarter-million vote margin over his Tennessee rival. Stevenson carried off California's 68 convention votes to put himself in front of other aspirants for the party nomination.

Stevenson was gathering better than 61 per cent of the Democratic vote but his individual total was expected to be topped by a 70-vote GOP slate supporting President Eisenhower. Unopposed, this slate ran behind the combined Stevenson-Kefauver total. When tabulation of the Republican ballots catches up, Eisenhower is expected to go ahead of Stevenson in total votes.

Returns showed:

President (D) 21,746 precincts of 24,160: Stevenson 1,041,303, Kefauver 626,030.

President (R) 20,877 precincts of 24,160: Eisenhower 1,165,535.

Conceding defeat in California, Kefauver said he would carry on the fight. However, his five consecutive losses to Stevenson in Alaska, District of Columbia, Oregon, Florida and California primaries left him little room for hope of success.

Deal Denied

While supporters of Kefauver and Harriman denied that any deal is likely between them, Stevenson leaders said they fully expect and are prepared for such a move.

In the past, the Stevenson camp has tossed out broad hints that some of Kefauver's financing may have come from friends of Harriman. Both Kefauver and Harriman have denied this.

Nevertheless, Harriman and Kefauver have remained on friendly terms that would facilitate any consolidation of their forces that might be aimed at getting the top spot for Harriman and the vice presidential nomination for Kefauver.

Stevenson Confident

Stevenson said he believes his California primary victory "virtually assures" him of the Democratic nomination for president. To a reporter's question who he now considered his strongest opponent, he replied:

"As a result of the California primary, I think that the strongest (other) Democratic contender is Gov. Harriman of New York."

Harriman was assured of most of New York's 98 votes in Tuesday's state primary but six Stevenson supporters with one vote each won places on the delegation. Harriman expects the backing of at-large delegates with 12 votes, to be chosen at a later state convention. He has picked up 13 votes thus far in other states.

Stevenson's lieutenants made it clear that with the California victory under their belt, they will go after second ballot support from delegates now lined up for Kefauver.

These include the delegations from Kefauver's home state of Tennessee and from states where he won uncontested primaries such as New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Maryland, Indiana, Montana and South Dakota. Wisconsin can't change its choice under state law unless Kefauver's total drops 10 per cent below the aggregate national convention vote.

The heaviest wind was reported at Lincoln, where Naval Air Station equipment measured the velocity at 72 miles an hour with gusts up to 96.8 mp.h.

The storms, starting in the late afternoon, first struck at the Hastings area. Some .75 of an inch of rain fell there, but 3 inches of rain was reported northeast of Hastings during a bad hail and rain storm. Winds there was measured at 40 m.p.h.

High winds heightened storms at Crete, Eagle, Elmwood, Waverly and in the Lincoln area.

At Crete the wind knocked a tree down and blocked Highway 33 north of the town. A hard rain fell there.

Sharp lightning accompanied the storms where they hit the hardest. Traffic of U.S. 6 was halted by the sheets of water pouring down in the Waverly area.

Most of the towns surrounding Lincoln apparently got the same storm, with about the same rainfall — an inch in an hour.

At Lincoln the rainfall was measured at 1.10 inches.

A windmill was downed on the Charles Connelly farm 1½ miles southeast of Prairie Home. A roof was swept from a 4,000-turkey shed at the Harold Reed farm nearby.

South and southeast of Lincoln, only light rain was reported indicating the storm moved on in a northeasterly direction toward Omaha.

But by the time the storm got to Omaha it had dwindled so that only a moderate rain of .15 of an inch fell. Wind there reached 34 m.p.h.

Strong winds knocked out communication lines with telephone long distance lines out from Lincoln to Hebron, Fairbury, and Salina, Kan. Some lines were also down between Lincoln and Hastings.

Damage in the Milford area was limited to tree limbs. Winds accompanied the downpour there.

Both Wilber and Seward reported hard rains, but no wind or hail accompanied the rainfall.

Burwell received 1.24 inches of rain Wednesday night, while Grand Island reported 2 inches after hail had covered the ground.

Twister Warning

Most of the eastern third of the state was in an area in which the Weather Bureau had warned of severe thunderstorms and possible tornadoes from 3 p.m. Wednesday to 2 a.m. Thursday.

The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. reported its main line west to Hastings was completely dead, although by rerouting calls communities in the vicinities of Hastings, Friend and Geneva continued to receive some service.

Telephone repair crews were working on the line, and service was expected to resume in a matter of a day.

Forecasters said the flow of storm-making air from the south should continue for several days and appreciable amounts of rainfall were in prospect.

'Hurricane' Wind Hits Lincoln Hard

A hurricane-force wind that almost reached 100 miles an hour lashed Lincoln with rain and hail for slightly more than a half-hour Wednesday evening and caused heavy damage.

As much as 1.10 inches of rain fell during the storm. The official Weather Bureau gauge showed .70 of an inch precipitation while the Air Base had .97.

The most rainfall was apparently in the downtown section and the south part of the city.

Trailer homes were tossed about and one was completely flipped onto its top. One trailer dweller was injured.

No other injuries were blamed on the storm.

But the high winds smashed out the control tower at the Lincoln Air Force Base and caused personnel to evacuate the tower. Plate glass tower windows were blown out.

The highest wind was measured by the Naval Air Station at 84 knots — or 96.8 miles an hour. The steady velocity was near 72 m.p.h. The Air Force weather station's equipment went out after wind was recorded at a 65 m.p.h. rate.

70 M.P.H. In City

Wind reaching over 70 miles an hour in many sections of the city drove heavy rain ahead of it.

Combined with lightning strikes, the wind littered the streets with fallen tree limbs and debris.

High water gathered in the streets when sewers proved unable to carry off the hard rain.

About one-third of the city was without lights immediately following the wind-storm, according to officials of both power services, and heavy damage was reported from fallen tree branches.

Spokesmen said power and lights would be in full operation by Thursday morning.

All three Lincoln hospitals had power failures, corrected later as emergency generator equipment was put into use. An operation in progress at St. Elizabeth's when the lights failed, was completed with light provided by flashlights.

Several hundred telephones in Lincoln were out of order according to Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. representatives, but service was expetced to be available by Thursday morning.

There were many scattered reports of damage to theater marquees and plate glass store windows.

500 Calls

The Lincoln police and fire departments reported nearly 500 calls about fallen wires, trees and poles.

According to the police, six ground floor plate glass windows were broken in the Sharp Building and others were blown in at the Stuart Building and the Varsity Theater Building. The metal awning of the Federal Securities Building was blown down at 13th and N.

A party of 14 diners in the Compass Room at the Municipal Airport narrowly escaped injury when two plate glass windows were hurled outward during the storm's high point.

Police reported six auto accidents during the storm, none involving any injuries.

The short-lived storm moved into the Lincoln area after striking hard at the central part of the state. After its damage was done in Lincoln, it moved out along its continuing easterly path.

United Air Lines reported all their flights were on schedule except one — a Denver to Omaha plane—which passed over Lincoln and landed in Omaha. UAL spokesmen said the storm was localized around Lincoln.

The trailer homes were overturned at a trailer park near Adams and Cornhusker Highway.

No Planes Hurt

No planes were damaged at the Air Base, according to Gen. Claude Putnam, commander of the 818 Air Division.

The terrific winds tore off at least one-third of the 20,000-square-foot roof on the Seal-Rite Manufacturing Company plant at 3500 No. 44th, President Herbert H. Heumann said.

Water flooded the basement of new construction at Leon's Grocery Store at Winthrop Road and Ryons.

Some damage resulted and a crew of workmen were busy during the early part of the night with pumps. Leon Adelson, the owner, said the extent of damage wasn't known.

Southeast Radial Extension Is Approved

South St. Resurface Also OKd

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Extension of the southeast radial highway from 27th and D to 32nd and A at a cost of $500 000 has been approved by the City Council.

In further action, the Council voted in favor of resurfacing and widening South from 37th to 48th The cost of this project to abutting property owners was cut by the Council to one half the cost of a 26-foot wide paving

The paving will actually be 33 feet at a total cost of $196 000. The city, however, agreed to pay half the cost of a 26 foot width plus all the cost for the extra seven feet.

It was previously planned to assess against abutting properties one-half of the total cost of the South Street project. The original cost was estimated at $7 50 a front foot to property owners while the new plan will be closer to $4 a front foot

On the radial federal aid funds will be available for one half the cost, making the city s share of the project $250,000

Cost City $446,000

The radial and South projects combined would cost the city $446 - 000, less the amount to be paid by property owners This would leave the city $224,382 in gas tax and auto registration fees to be spent up to Aug. 31, 1957

Out of this, the Council is considering improvements to 9th for its use with 10th as a one-way pair. Also being discussed is the possible widening of 48th north of Holdrege and resurfacing of No Cotner Blvd

Other items under consideration include $14,000 for resurfacing 27th from Y to Potter, $27,000 for 16th from Y to Holdrege in connection with a new Antelope Creek bridge and $13,000 for opening Van Dorn over the Rock Island tracks between 33rd and Williams

'New Customers' Expected At Irvingdale Pool

IRVINGDALE POOL...to be finished this month. (Star Photo).

Another new group of customers is expected to be found by the city for the Irvingdale Park swimming pool at 20th and Van Dorn.

The new neighborhood pool is expected to be opened later this month. The University Place pool opens this Thursday while work being done on Muny will delay the opening there until Saturday.

All city pools will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

If past experience is any judge, the new Irvingdale pool will find a vast source of new customers.

When the University Place pool was opened last year, attendance at Muny pool dropped off only a fraction. In 1954, there were a total of 97,343 admissions at Muny for total receipts of $19,794.

In 1955, with University Place pool as competition, there were 94,768 admissions at Muny which brought in $20,567.96. Charges were increased slightly in 1955.

During 1955, the pool at University Place took in $15,790.12 from 75,525 customers.

Recreation Director James Lewis explained that many people who lived too far from Muny pool frequented the University Place pool. There were others who may not have attended Muny for various reasons which did not apply at University Place, he said.

Thus, said Lewis, new customers were found for University Place pool with little drain on the Muny patronage.

It is hoped, he said, that the same results will be seen at the new Irvingdale pool. The new pool is a considerable distance from any other such facility.

People who may not have visited a pool in the past may now find it is convenient to use the new pool, said Lewis.

CINCINNATI (AP) — A 20-year-old youth with a past record of sex offenses against juveniles was arrested here Wednesday and admitted strangling Richard Townson, 5, on May 20, detectives reported.

Detectives identified the youth as William Roy Watson. They said he claimed he strangled the Townson boy accidentally while trying to molest him sexually.

The victim, strangled with his own belt, was found in an alley near his home at the edge of the downtown district.

State High Court Hears Case Over Newsprint Prices

A dispute between Carpenter Paper Co. of Omaha and the Kearney Hub Publishing Co. over the price of newsprint during the period of short supply following World War II was submitted to the State Supreme Court Wednesday on oral argument.

The paper company appealed when the District Court awarded the publishing company a judgment for $1,364.50 on a gross petition. The lower court dismissed the original petition in which the paper company asked for judgment for $4,096.71.

The publishing firm contended the paper company raised its price by $5 a ton, and later a dollar more, "knowing the company was compelled to purchase newsprint or go out of business." The court will hand down its decision later.

Fly In The Ointment

Nebraska's educational scene, which this time of year emphasizes achievement with its long procession of graduates, is no unbroken vista of well being.

The moment was chosen by the State School Accreditation Committee to name 108 schools it had put on probation. They are schools which through deficiency fail to match the state yardstick of top acceptability.

Additional recommendations of the committee would drop 26 schools from the accredited list to the lower designation of "approved." It would place 98 schools on advisement, which is to say they have improvements to make lest accreditation be seriously threatened.

While the committee softened the action by describing this year's deficiencies as no greater than a year ago, that was a doubtful bit of comfort. Any list containing 108 schools failing to meet the state's accreditment standards is a large one. It reflects the struggle going on in Nebraska communities to keep their educational programs abreast of the demands of adequacy.

The picture is not brightened by the realization that national and individual welfare requires more and more of public education each year. A guarantee of improvement to overcome present criticism is only one step toward other efforts to gear education to tomorrow's greater requirements.

There are many who hold a distaste for federal aid, but to prevail in that view requires proof that present capacities at home can meet the problem. Nebraska would have an improving case against federal aid if its list of deficient schools were steadily growing smaller.

Not One Dissenting Vote

On both sides of the aisle in the Senate chamber in Washington Wednesday there was warm praise for Nebraska's Fred Seaton when his name came up for confirmation for appointment to the post of secretary of the interior, succeeding Douglas McKay. Even more gratifying, the vote on confirmation was unanimous. There was not a dissent from even one of the 96 members of the United States Senate. Unanimous approval simply does not happen in Washington every day in the week.

Mr. Seaton may take that as a remarkable expression of confidence. All of the paths leading to the office which Mr. Seaton takes over are paved with trouble. If the sharp controversy over policy with reference to public power was not enough to fill a man's hands, then guardianship over Uncle Sam's public domain, the forests and the parks, the vast resources of this nation, is enough to put wrinkles in the brow of whoever happens to be the secretary of the interior and to sentence him to premature gray-ing at the temples. It's a tough job that has fallen to Fred Seaton—second only, possibly, to the secretary of state's responsibilities and the massive burden falling to the secretary of defense.

Only young Dick Neuberger, Oregon's senator, voting as he did to confirm Mr. Seaton, suggested by word the crushing responsibilities which become a very real part of Mr. Seaton's political career from here on in. Developments, Sen. Neuberger said, will establish whether Mr. Seaton becomes a second Douglas McKay or a Gifford Pinchot. Which is to say that responsibility for far-sighted conservation of natural resources now falls to Mr. Seaton. It will be up to him more to protect the President, and back of the President, the American people. Mr. Eisenhower may have his ideas in connection with river basin development, public power, and other controversial questions falling to the Department of Interior, but from now on, it is Mr. Seaton's baby.

A Little Starry Eyed

Nebraska's Senator Roman Hruska demonstrated both party regularity and an unquenchable sort of optimism this week in his praise of the Agriculture Department.

According to wire sources he lauded the department for its quick action in putting the new soil bank plan into limited operation. "Fast efficient administration of the $1.2 billion soil bank," he said, "contains great hope for the farmer."

Then he went on to say that "farm prices have now recovered to the levels of a year ago, but prices paid by farmers for products they buy are still climbing."

It was a fine and loyal tribute. Nevertheless it will leave the average Nebraska farm operator somewhat at a loss to square it with the facts as he has them.

The Nebraska ASC office the other day expressed doubts that the plan will get under way until after July 1. By that time the 1956 wheat harvest will be well under way. That will be too late for any consequential soil bank relief.

At this present date 95 per cent of Nebraska's corn has been planted. It will not come to crop until this fall. But Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who is not as optimistic as Senator Hruska, has made it plain that the soil bank is primarily a short range expedient, and this year especially it is not meant to function as a drought relief factor. In other words he has made it plain that the corn that is in the ground is in the ground and he is not expecting to switch some of that ground into the soil bank if drought conditions later threaten to wipe out production.

That doesn't leave very much for the soil bank this year—certainly not enough to cause senators and working farmers to grow starry-eyed about it.

Stopping Turnover

The Air Force regularly deplores its inability to hold highly trained enlisted personnel. Recently it pointed out that it costs $14,000 to prepare a recruit for useful service, but once trained the chances for keeping him become proportionately slim. Private business bids two to five times his service salary to get him, and generally does.

The Air Force has a point in appealing for better pay. And certainly it is more economical to give a trained man a few hundred dollars more a year to hold him than to train a replacement at $14,000. But there is another side to the penny. Many a man leaves the military service because there is no firm assurance that should he choose it as a life career he can depend on it. The military and the government have always reserved the right to slash budgets and reduce forces, dismissing enlisted men without sufficient regard to what such actions mean to men.

Along with pay adjustments a guarantee of a life career or sufficient indemnification as an alternative would amount to a long range economy and do a great deal more toward curbing enlistment turnover.

Jean Hersholt

Every American will mourn the passing of Actor Jean Hersholt—the man they know as "Dr. Christian."

An actor from childhood, a native of Denmark, Hersholt was a man of varying stage personalities, including that of a villain, but never a real physician. Yet when his life is summed up his greatest gift to the American people was the image he gave them of the ideal doctor—the dedicated, skilled, humane, ever-serving man who cherished their happiness equally with his conquest of their ailments. Actually he caught and portrayed that which people desire in the way of a personal physician, friend and counsellor. He gave definition to that which most people feel but either cannot or do not have occasion to express.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Adlai Stevenson, on the basis of the returns in the California primary available when this was written, had won a smashing victory. With more than two-thirds of the 24,000 precincts reported, in round figures Stevenson had a total of more than 697,000 votes to 425,000 for Estes Kefauver. Together the two had rolled up well over a million votes to 710,000 for President Eisenhower in a dull, dispirited Republican primary.

★

Has the Pacific Coast had all it wants of the Eisenhower administration? The answer to that rests with each individual observer, but in two states now—Oregon and California—it would appear that the President's reputed overwhelming popularity with the American voter was more a matter of newspaper fiction than reality. California Democrats outnumber California Republicans in registration by more than 400,000 and in the primary there is no such thing in California as crossing party lines. But if the reader is anxious for a more revealing count of California's political pulse, he may find it in the election of members to the California state Legislature yesterday, where cross-balloting is possible in a primary. There for the first time in California's political history, the news dispatches said, it appeared that the Democrats had taken over control of the California State Senate. Stevenson had within 13,000 votes of the number that President Eisenhower, unopposed on the Republican ballot, gathered in. While it was possible in the November election that some of the Kefauver strength might shift to Eisenhower, the facts suggested that in both California and Oregon there is an upsurge of Democratic sentiment little short of sensational

Shift On West Coast

In a very substantial sense, Stevenson had the undivided support of the Democratic organization in the state. A popular attorney general, Brown, who has never been defeated in California, headed the Stevenson forces but it was noteworthy that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt spent the closing days of the primary campaign in behalf of Stevenson.

★

Tuesday's primary generally established a growth in Democratic sentiment. In South Dakota, Nebraska's neighbor to the north, "Farmer" Ken Holum, as the press dispatches described him, appealed to South Dakota Democrats to spare no effort in getting to the polls to reinforce the farm demands for an acceptable program. Mr. Holum won easily over a strong competitor, but more significantly the Democratic vote in South Dakota reached an all-time record high. A week ago in Iowa, notwithstanding the disposition of commentators and columnists to minimize it, the Democratic vote in the Iowa primary was the largest cast in 22 years, or a larger Democratic vote than any time since 1934. It is to be anticipated that Chairman Hall and his associates on the Republican National Committee while outwardly talking of an easy, overwhelming victory in the November elections will sit up and take notice of the results in recent days. This talk about the Eisenhower administration's facing an easier contest than in 1952 is only talk.

We grant that it is being insidiously nursed by the press and by other agencies. But the truth is that the election is still ahead and it will not be decided until the American people have moved much nearer to election day.

Money-Making Labor Leaders Under Fire

WASHINGTON — George Meany had about 99 per cent support from AFL-CIO leaders meeting in Washington this week for his plan to eliminate labor bosses who engage in conflicting business on the side. Labor leaders who gathered to dedicate the new AFL-CIO headquarters opposite the White House are equally dedicated to purging those who have jobs on the side with employers while supposed to be representing employees.

This is the same kind of conflict of interest that has cropped up in the Eisenhower administration, and Meany doesn't want labor to be guilty of the same thing.

Jim Hoffa, powerful boss of the Midwest Teamsters and the man who some day will succeed Dave Beck, believes that if a labor leader does a good job for his men it's no business of theirs how much money he makes for himself.

This is in direct contrast to national union chiefs. Meany and John L. Lewis, for instance, live modestly and simply. Walter Reuther, who does likewise, believes that the duty of a union executive is to promote better education, better diplomacy, and peace.

☆ ☆ ☆

PROFITS FOR WIVES

In contrast, Hoffa owns races horses, once owned a race track outside Columbus, Ohio; and his wife is co-owner of the "Test-Fleet Company," which operates trucks carrying four cars each which deliver the products of Michigan motor factories all over the U.S.A.

Significantly, Mrs. Hoffa operates under her maiden name, Josephine Poszywak, while her partner, Alice Brennan, is the wife of Bert Brennan, Hoffa's right-hand teamster in Detroit. The two wives suddenly inherited Test-Fleet after Hoffa settled a strike in Flint, according to sworn testimony before the House Government Operations Committee.

After that strike was settled by Hoffa—against the desires of local union leaders—Mrs. Hoffa and Mrs. Bert Brennan took over Test-Fleet with an exclusive contract to deliver cars. According to congressional testimony, they made a $64,000 profit in four years—with the investment of almost no capital.

As the House committee began to dig into these matters in 1954, however, Hoffa suddenly made a deal through his fellow Michigander, Postmaster General Summerfield, to support GOP Sen. Homer Ferguson for re-election. After that, the investigation suddenly stopped.

Hoffa refused to answer various questions regarding the finances and the holdings of his wife. He appeared to be in contempt of Congress. Unlike some of the Harvard professors and schoolteachers who were hauled before Senator McCarthy, however, he was never cited for contempt.

That is a cross-section of the cross-currents in the biggest union in the world and indicates why other trade-union leaders are suspicious of and hostile toward the teamsters. It also indicates the tough job George Meany will have with the teamsters in the new AFL-CIO.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

After Dave Beck, boss of the teamsters union, sold his home to the teamsters, Jim Carey, head of the AFL-CIO Electrical Workers, received the following telegram: "Please advise whether rumor is true that Dave Beck has offered to sell teamsters building back to the teamsters." .... Indestructible Sen. Matt Neely of West Virginia, who has served in Congress longer than any other member, though not consecutively, underwent a minor operation at the age of 80. Two hours later he was up and telephoning his office.

A-Bomb Control A Must—Baruch

NEW YORK — Bernard M. Baruch, the American elder statesman whose plan for international control of atomic energy was vetoed by Russia, believes as a consequence "it is only a matter of time before every nation on earth will have atomic weapons."

Atomic warfare is bound to follow, he contends, as a matter of course and tradition.

"There has been a Hitler at every stage in history," the vigorous 85-year-old adviser to presidents since Woodrow Wilson observed at his memento-laden Fifth Avenue apartment, after hearing a reporter's account of a recent H-bomb test in the Pacific.

"Can we say that another Hitler won't appear?" he asked. "You know very well that if he had come up with the atomic bomb he would have used it without a qualm. What's to prevent some new power-mad fellow in any two-by-four country from doing the same thing when he gets his own batch of nuclear weapons? He'll get them, too, if the world goes along without proper atomic energy control very much longer. Quicker, cheaper ways always are found to build things."

Baruch, who will be 86 Aug. 19, does not find it easy to dismiss from his mind the Communist sabotage of the plan he submitted as U.S. representative to U.N.'s Atomic Energy Commission nearly a decade ago. The plan, which calls for control of all fissionable material, peaceful development of the atom, and inspection, remains the policy of the U.S. Russia has steadfastly refused to accept.

Baruch is convinced the Russian people have yet to hear of his plan. He believes, too, that in the event of an atomic war involving the U.S. this country would find itself morally restrained from waging it to the hilt, for fear of harming neutral nations with wayward radio active fall out.

Baruch told U.N. on Dec. 5, 1946, "in all my life, now past the Biblical allotment of three score and ten years, never before have I seen so rich an opportunity for deathless service as is presented to us here. I want my country associated with victory in this great crusade. For myself, as I look upon a long past and too short a future, I believe the finest epitaph would be—'He helped to bring lasting peace to the world.'"

He will continue to plug for his control plan out of which all other atomic overtures we've seen made have evolved. Later in the month he's going over to see his friend Winston Churchill. Baruch is delighted to note that Churchill is speaking again.

Gore Looms As Veep Candidate

WASHINGTON—When Senator Albert Gore of Tennessee assured a Massachusetts rally that the state's junior senator, John F. Kennedy, would ornament the presidential ticket in either spot at any time, Gore was only repaying a compliment.

Senator Kennedy's own answer to questions about his vice-presidential ambitions has long been a suggestion that the post would go to Gore and this would be a good thing, too.

The press galleries would agree that from the standpoint of character, ability and industry the junior senator from Tennessee stands very near the top of the heap. He is also very well placed geographically, being from a border state between North and South, which is the political bridge Democrats like to build in a national ticket.

The care and diligence with which Gore has constructed a rational liberal record in six terms in the House and his present first term in the Senate speak for his ambitions. But outside the circle of his associates, his political possibilities have been overshadowed by the unflagging presidential aspirations of his colleague, Senator Estes Kefauver.

Kefauver is 53, Gore 49. In many respects, their careers have run parallel. Kefauver also served a long apprenticeship in the House. Both represent the new South and are internationalists. Both have an unusual degree of personal independence.

Gore's superior standing with his colleagues rests, in large part, on his capacity and willingness to work at the hard, dull tasks as well as the things that make headlines. Yet Gore is no pet of the reigning southern conservative leaders, as was proved by their refusal to back his plans for the Senate lobby committee of which he was originally chairman. When they refused, Gore, also acting in character, quit.

Gore's most recent achievement is the new highway bill, the biggest the federal government has ever undertaken.

He began with the financial aspects, a probable reflection of his long and close association with B. M. Baruch, the economic elder statesman. Gore substituted a tax plan for the president's proposal to raise the money by floating bonds. After that, he worked out the compromises.

A public power advocate, being from the Tennessee Valley, Gore has also been pushing for federally-built atomic power plants. The Central Intelligence Agency has backed his contention that this country is lagging in that field behind the Soviets.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Always Humphrey To The Rescue

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Humphrey Nickelsworth. "He's worth more than a penny to us") is a big, fat good-natured Boxer, which accounts for his comic-strip name.

Capt. and Mrs. Cecil Frye picked up Humphrey in Texas as a playmate for their seven-year-old black cat Rescue.

Dog and cat chase each other from one end of the house at 631 Eastborough Lane to the other end in play. When Rescue gets tired, she merely hides under the television set and peers out, looking mischieviously at her playful antagonist.

☆ ☆ ☆

When Humphrey tires of Rescue, he will pick up one of his many stuffed dogs and throw it around the house. The lamps are open targets for his cloth ammunition.

Humphrey is a pleasure lover. He demands and gets a pillow every night. When not lying on a pillow, the Boxer will prop his head on Capt. Frye's shoe.

The cunning cat, taking a page from this canine, will wait until the Fryes are asleep, then jump up on the edge of the bed for a night's rest.

Humphrey and Rescue hit it off just right from the start. Though the cat was first in the family, she developed an instant liking for the big Boxer. Humphrey responded likewise.

He even allows her to sneak a bite out of his dish, though he respects her feeding rights by leaving the cat dish alone.

The Fryes are especially proud of their Humphrey because he is a half brother to the American champion, Bangaway.

To the Fryes, Humphrey is a big nickel's worth.

Phoney Fishing

A thief in Chattanooga, Tenn., recently made off with 21 dozen work shirts by snagging them through a hole in the roof of a clothing store with a four-hook fishing plug.

This is the sort of happening that normally would evoke very little anguish beyond the immediate vicinity, but the picaroon's choice of weapons cries out for protest. It is a dastardly libel on every true fisherman, and mayhap a piece of blackguarding propaganda as well.

It makes a fishing man's heart tremble to imagine what his wife could do if she were to hear of it. "Aha," she might taunt, standing arms akimbo in the door of their happy cottage and watching him make off with rod and reel. "Aha! Is it perch or pants this time, dear?"

It is a demonstrable fact that the Chattanooga jackleg was no fisherman. He had none of the instincts of a fisherman. The mere fact that he angled for 21 shirts is proof enough of that, for any fisherman's frau can tell you that the true breed is loyal through life to only one shirt while handling net and creel, and will resist with a desperate venom any attempt to burn, barter or junk the dear, familiar fabric.

Primarily, however, there are in a sycamore three inches from two points at which the Tennessee thug showed himself alien to the ways of fishermen.

First, he left the fishing plug behind him when he took the shirts. He left it lying right there on the floor, not even hung up sunken log 20 feet under icy water, nor even as if it were dangling in a chandelier. It wasn't as if the hooks were snagged on a a hornet's nest. It was right there on the floor—and he went off and left it. The man was no fisherman.

No confirmed angler will ever willingly sacrifice a plug, not even one that has never caught a fish.

There is always the chance that somewhere, some time, in some brook or lake or tide, the conditions will be just right for that particular plug. Along with the chance, of course, goes the certainty that when conditions are right, the plug will be at home in the spare tackle box, but no such unimportant verities can swerve the fisherman from protecting his plugs at the risk of life, limb or bastille.

The second primary point in which the Tennessean failed in his masquerade was in his method. He cut a hole in the roof of the clothing store directly above the work shirts, let the fish hooks straight down, and pulled the shirts straight up. That man deserves anything that happens to him!

The least he could have done, had there been a spark of the Ike Walton spirit in him, was to cast over behind a counter, or into the eddy by the stock room door. Not even the laziest cane pole fisherman is ever satisfied unless his float is actually resting on the water three feet farther out than his line could possibly reach.

As for the bait-casting men, who are the ones that use plugs, in a long life of fishing I have never seen one who could be happy unless his cast zigged around a tree limb, zagged to one side of a boulder, turned a bend in the shore and dropped on the water just the other side of a submerged bedstead.

Anyone who would be satisfied with less is not a fisherman, and when they catch the guy in Tennessee I hope they put him to cleaning carp in expiation for having misrepresented honest men.

Plan For Recreation

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In the Saturday Star of May 26 was a letter that was most distressing to persons interested in recreation. This letter attacked the hospital proposal because the Lincoln taxpayers "should spend their money on things that are badly needed, such as schools and recreational facilities for their children. This city is badly in need of more recreational facilities . . . development of our parks is most necessary, including many local tracts such as the Rogers Tract . . ."

How much information do people lack?

The hospital bond proposal is to finance the development of the 50-acre Rogers Tract that has been a weed patch since 1948 because the city has no money to fix it up. Twenty acres are for medical purposes, including a school and a rehabilitation center for children and the medically handicapped. The proposal includes $300,000 for developing the other 30 acres into ornamental parks, a swimming pool, a skating facility, tennis courts, playfields—in short, everything the writer said the taxpayer should spend his money for.

All of this has been described several times in The Lincoln Star.

Lincoln citizens, long proud of a modern, clean city, are faced with simple issues in the June proposals—continue to enjoy an up-to-date, clean city now or mark time and pay more for the same improvements at a future date.

FRIEND OF RECREATION

Proposed Authority

Lincoln, Neb.

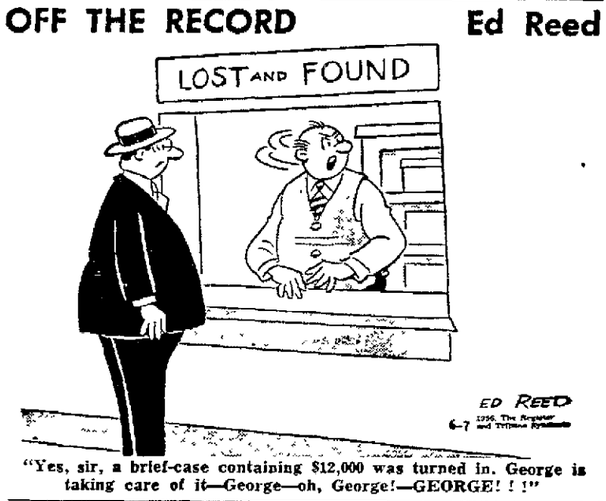

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In my opinion, the Lincoln-Lancaster County Building Authority poses a serious threat to the financial security of city and county taxpayers. The proposed authority would replace the City Council and the county commissioners as the construction supervisors of future public buildings. Also, it fixes the rent chargeable to the taxpayers, and raises the rent whenever deemed necessary.

Further, it would enjoy a perpetual succession, and a permanent tenure in office, by non-elective officials. Finally, members of the authority would have the exclusive power or license to buy and sell city county real estate, such exclusive privilege to buy and sell within their sole and absolute discretion.

In over-all effect, the proposed authority becomes a corporate sovereign, subject to no laws except its own, and will ultimately reduce local taxpayers to the distasteful status of pauperism.

Even more gratifying, the vote on confirmation was unanimous. There was not a dissent from even one of the 96 members of the United States Senate. Unanimous approval simply does not happen in Washington every day in the week.

Mr. Seaton may take that as a remarkable expression of confidence. All of the paths leading to the office which Mr. Seaton takes over are paved with trouble. It was a fine and loyal tribute. Nevertheless it will leave the average Nebraska farm operator somewhat at a loss to square it with the facts as he has them.

The Nebraska ASC office the other day expressed doubts that the plan will get under way until after July 1. By that time the 1956 wheat harvest will be well under way. That will be too late for any consequential soil bank relief.

At this present date 95 per cent of Nebraska's corn has been planted. It will not come to crop until this fall. But Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who is not as optimistic as Senator Hruska, has made it plain that the soil bank is primarily a short range expedient, and this year especially it is not meant to function as a drought relief factor. In other words he has made it plain that the corn that is in the ground is in the ground and he is not expecting to switch some of that ground into the soil bank if drought conditions later threaten to wipe out production.

That doesn't leave very much for the soil bank this year—certainly not enough to cause senators and working farmers to grow starry-eyed about it.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Adlai Stevenson, on the basis of the returns in the California primary available when this was written, had won a smashing victory. With more than two-thirds of the 24,000 precincts reported, in round figures Stevenson had a total of more than 697,000 votes to 425,000 for Estes Kefauver. Together the two had rolled up well over a million votes to 710,000 for President Eisenhower in a dull, dispirited Republican primary.

★

Has the Pacific Coast had all it wants of the Eisenhower administration? The answer to that rests with each individual observer, but in two states now—Oregon and California—it would appear that the President's reputed overwhelming popularity with the American voter was more a matter of newspaper fiction than reality. California Democrats outnumber California Republicans in registration by more than 400,000 and in the primary there is no such thing in California as crossing party lines. But if the reader is anxious for a more revealing count of California's political pulse, he may find it in the election of members to the California state Legislature yesterday, where cross-balloting is possible in a primary. There for the first time in California's political history, the news dispatches said, it appeared that the Democrats had taken over control of the California State Senate. Stevenson had within 13,000 votes of the number that President Eisenhower, unopposed on the Republican ballot, gathered in. While it was possible in the November election that some of the Kefauver strength might shift to Eisenhower, the facts suggested that in both California and Oregon there is an upsurge of Democratic sentiment little short of sensational.

In a very substantial sense, Stevenson had the undivided support of the Democratic organization in the state. A popular attorney general, Brown, who has never been defeated in California, headed the Stevenson forces but it was noteworthy that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt spent the closing days of the primary campaign in behalf of Stevenson.

★

Tuesday's primary generally established a growth in Democratic sentiment. In South Dakota, Nebraska's neighbor to the north, "Farmer" Ken Holum, as the press dispatches described him, appealed to South Dakota Democrats to spare no effort in getting to the polls to reinforce the farm demands for an acceptable program. Mr. Holum won easily over a strong competitor, but more significantly the Democratic vote in South Dakota reached an all-time record high. A week ago in Iowa, notwithstanding the disposition of commentators and columnists to minimize it, the Democratic vote in the Iowa primary was the largest cast in 22 years, or a larger Democratic vote than any time since 1934. It is to be anticipated that Chairman Hall and his associates on the Republican National Committee while outwardly talking of an easy, overwhelming victory in the November elections will sit up and take notice of the results in recent days. This talk about the Eisenhower administration's facing an easier contest than in 1952 is only talk.

We grant that it is being insidiously nursed by the press and by other agencies. But the truth is that the election is still ahead and it will not be decided until the American people have moved much nearer to election day.

Stopping Turnover

The Air Force regularly deplores its inability to hold highly trained enlisted personnel. Recently it pointed out that it costs $14,000 to prepare a recruit for useful service, but once trained the chances for keeping him become proportionately slim. Private business bids two to five times his service salary to get him, and generally does.

The Air Force has a point in appealing for better pay. And certainly it is more economical to give a trained man a few hundred dollars more a year to hold him than to train a replacement at $14,000. But there is another side to the penny. Many a man leaves the military service because there is no firm assurance that should he choose it as a life career he can depend on it. The military and the government have always reserved the right to slash budgets and reduce forces, dismissing enlisted men without sufficient regard to what such actions mean to men.

Along with pay adjustments a guarantee of a life career or sufficient indemnification as an alternative would amount to a long range economy and do a great deal more toward curbing enlistment turnover.

Jean Hersholt

Every American will mourn the passing of Actor Jean Hersholt—the man they know as "Dr. Christian."

An actor from childhood, a native of Denmark, Hersholt was a man of varying stage personalities, including that of a villain, but never a real physician. Yet when his life is summed up his greatest gift to the American people was the image he gave them of the ideal doctor—the dedicated, skilled, humane, ever-serving man who cherished their happiness equally with his conquest of their ailments. Actually he caught and portrayed that which people desire in the way of a personal physician, friend and counsellor. He gave definition to that which most people feel but either cannot or do not have occasion to express.

Money-Making Labor Leaders Under Fire

WASHINGTON — George Meany had about 99 per cent support from AFL-CIO leaders meeting in Washington this week for his plan to eliminate labor bosses who engage in conflicting business on the side. Labor leaders who gathered to dedicate the new AFL-CIO headquarters opposite the White House are equally dedicated to purging those who have jobs on the side with employers while supposed to be representing employees.

This is the same kind of conflict of interest that has cropped up in the Eisenhower administration, and Meany doesn't want labor to be guilty of the same thing.

Jim Hoffa, powerful boss of the Midwest Teamsters and the man who some day will succeed Dave Beck, believes that if a labor leader does a good job for his men it's no business of theirs how much money he makes for himself.

This is in direct contrast to national union chiefs. Meany and John L. Lewis, for instance, live modestly and simply. Walter Reuther, who does likewise, believes that the duty of a union executive is to promote better education, better diplomacy, and peace.

☆ ☆ ☆

PROFITS FOR WIVES

In contrast, Hoffa owns races horses, once owned a race track outside Columbus, Ohio; and his wife is co-owner of the "Test-Fleet Company," which operates trucks carrying four cars each which deliver the products of Michigan motor factories all over the U.S.A.

Significantly, Mrs. Hoffa operates under her maiden name, Josephine Poszywak, while her partner, Alice Brennan, is the wife of Bert Brennan, Hoffa's right-hand teamster in Detroit. The two wives suddenly inherited Test-Fleet after Hoffa settled a strike in Flint, according to sworn testimony before the House Government Operations Committee.

After that strike was settled by Hoffa—against the desires of local union leaders—Mrs. Hoffa and Mrs. Bert Brennan took over Test-Fleet with an exclusive contract to deliver cars. According to congressional testimony, they made a $64,000 profit in four years—with the investment of almost no capital.

As the House committee began to dig into these matters in 1954, however, Hoffa suddenly made a deal through his fellow Michigander, Postmaster General Summerfield, to support GOP Sen. Homer Ferguson for re-election. After that, the investigation suddenly stopped.

Hoffa refused to answer various questions regarding the finances and the holdings of his wife. He appeared to be in contempt of Congress. Unlike some of the Harvard professors and schoolteachers who were hauled before Senator McCarthy, however, he was never cited for contempt.

That is a cross-section of the cross-currents in the biggest union in the world and indicates why other trade-union leaders are suspicious of and hostile toward the teamsters. It also indicates the tough job George Meany will have with the teamsters in the new AFL-CIO.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

After Dave Beck, boss of the teamsters union, sold his home to the teamsters, Jim Carey, head of the AFL-CIO Electrical Workers, received the following telegram: "Please advise whether rumor is true that Dave Beck has offered to sell teamsters building back to the teamsters." .... Indestructible Sen. Matt Neely of West Virginia, who has served in Congress longer than any other member, though not consecutively, underwent a minor operation at the age of 80. Two hours later he was up and telephoning his office.

A-Bomb Control A Must—Baruch

NEW YORK — Bernard M. Baruch, the American elder statesman whose plan for international control of atomic energy was vetoed by Russia, believes as a consequence "it is only a matter of time before every nation on earth will have atomic weapons."

Atomic warfare is bound to follow, he contends, as a matter of course and tradition.

"There has been a Hitler at every stage in history," the vigorous 85-year-old adviser to presidents since Woodrow Wilson observed at his memento-laden Fifth Avenue apartment, after hearing a reporter's account of a recent H-bomb test in the Pacific.

"Can we say that another Hitler won't appear?" he asked. "You know very well that if he had come up with the atomic bomb he would have used it without a qualm. What's to prevent some new power-mad fellow in any two-by-four country from doing the same thing when he gets his own batch of nuclear weapons? He'll get them, too, if the world goes along without proper atomic energy control very much longer. Quicker, cheaper ways always are found to build things."

Baruch, who will be 86 Aug. 19, does not find it easy to dismiss from his mind the Communist sabotage of the plan he submitted as U.S. representative to U.N.'s Atomic Energy Commission nearly a decade ago. The plan, which calls for control of all fissionable material, peaceful development of the atom, and inspection, remains the policy of the U.S. Russia has steadfastly refused to accept.

Baruch is convinced the Russian people have yet to hear of his plan. He believes, too, that in the event of an atomic war involving the U.S. this country would find itself morally restrained from waging it to the hilt, for fear of harming neutral nations with wayward radio active fall out.

Baruch told U.N. on Dec. 5, 1946, "in all my life, now past the Biblical allotment of three score and ten years, never before have I seen so rich an opportunity for deathless service as is presented to us here. I want my country associated with victory in this great crusade. For myself, as I look upon a long past and too short a future, I believe the finest epitaph would be—'He helped to bring lasting peace to the world.'"

He will continue to plug for his control plan out of which all other atomic overtures we've seen made have evolved. Later in the month he's going over to see his friend Winston Churchill. Baruch is delighted to note that Churchill is speaking again.

Gore Looms As Veep Candidate

WASHINGTON—When Senator Albert Gore of Tennessee assured a Massachusetts rally that the state's junior senator, John F. Kennedy, would ornament the presidential ticket in either spot at any time, Gore was only repaying a compliment.

Senator Kennedy's own answer to questions about his vice-presidential ambitions has long been a suggestion that the post would go to Gore and this would be a good thing, too.

The press galleries would agree that from the standpoint of character, ability and industry the junior senator from Tennessee stands very near the top of the heap. He is also very well placed geographically, being from a border state between North and South, which is the political bridge Democrats like to build in a national ticket.

The care and diligence with which Gore has constructed a rational liberal record in six terms in the House and his present first term in the Senate speak for his ambitions. But outside the circle of his associates, his political possibilities have been overshadowed by the unflagging presidential aspirations of his colleague, Senator Estes Kefauver.

Kefauver is 53, Gore 49. In many respects, their careers have run parallel. Kefauver also served a long apprenticeship in the House. Both represent the new South and are internationalists. Both have an unusual degree of personal independence.

Gore's superior standing with his colleagues rests, in large part, on his capacity and willingness to work at the hard, dull tasks as well as the things that make headlines. Yet Gore is no pet of the reigning southern conservative leaders, as was proved by their refusal to back his plans for the Senate lobby committee of which he was originally chairman. When they refused, Gore, also acting in character, quit.

Gore's most recent achievement is the new highway bill, the biggest the federal government has ever undertaken.

He began with the financial aspects, a probable reflection of his long and close association with B. M. Baruch, the economic elder statesman. Gore substituted a tax plan for the president's proposal to raise the money by floating bonds. After that, he worked out the compromises.

A public power advocate, being from the Tennessee Valley, Gore has also been pushing for federally-built atomic power plants. The Central Intelligence Agency has backed his contention that this country is lagging in that field behind the Soviets.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Always Humphrey To The Rescue

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Humphrey Nickelsworth. "He's worth more than a penny to us") is a big, fat good-natured Boxer, which accounts for his comic-strip name.

Capt. and Mrs. Cecil Frye picked up Humphrey in Texas as a playmate for their seven-year-old black cat Rescue.

Dog and cat chase each other from one end of the house at 631 Eastborough Lane to the other end in play. When Rescue gets tired, she merely hides under the television set and peers out, looking mischieviously at her playful antagonist.

☆ ☆ ☆

When Humphrey tires of Rescue, he will pick up one of his many stuffed dogs and throw it around the house. The lamps are open targets for his cloth ammunition.

Humphrey is a pleasure lover. He demands and gets a pillow every night. When not lying on a pillow, the Boxer will prop his head on Capt. Frye's shoe.

The cunning cat, taking a page from this canine, will wait until the Fryes are asleep, then jump up on the edge of the bed for a night's rest.

☆ ☆ ☆

Humphrey and Rescue hit if off just right from the start. Though the cat was first in the family, she developed an instant liking for the big Boxer. Humphrey responded likewise.

He even allows her to sneak a bite out of his dish, though he respects her feeding rights by leaving the cat dish alone.

The Fryes are expecially proud of their Humphrey because he is a half brother to the American champion, Bangaway.

To the Fryes, Humphrey is a big nickel's worth.

Phoney Fishing

A thief in Chattanooga, Tenn., recently made off with 21 dozen work shirts by snagging them through a hole in the roof of a clothing store with a four-hook fishing plug.

This is the sort of happening that normally would evoke very little anguish beyond the immediate vicinity, but the picaroon's choice of weapons cries out for protest. It is a dastardly libel on every true fisherman, and mayhap a piece of blackguarding propaganda as well.

It makes a fishing man's heart tremble to imagine what his wife could do if she were to hear of it. "Aha," she might taunt, standing arms akimbo in the door of their happy cottage and watching him make off with rod and reel. "Aha! Is it perch or pants this time, dear?"

It is a demonstrable fact that the Chattanooga jackleg was no fisherman. He had none of the instincts of a fisherman. The mere fact that he angled for 21 shirts is proof enough of that, for any fisherman's frau can tell you that the true breed is loyal through life to only one shirt while handling net and creel, and will resist with a desperate venom any attempt to burn, barter or junk the dear, familiar fabric.

☆ ☆ ☆

Primarily, however, there are in a sycamore three inches from two points at which the Tennessee thug showed himself alien to the ways of fishermen.

First, he left the fishing plug behind him when he took the shirts. He left it lying right there on the floor, not even hung up sunken log 20 feet under icy water, nor even as if it were dangling in a chandelier. It wasn't as if the hooks were snagged on a a hornet's nest. It was right there on the floor—and he went off and left it. The man was no fisherman.

No confirmed angler will ever willingly sacrifice a plug, not even one that has never caught a fish.

There is always the chance that somewhere, some time, in some brook or lake or tide, the conditions will be just right for that particular plug. Along with the chance, of course, goes the certainty that when conditions are right, the plug will be at home in the spare tackle box, but no such unimportant verities can swerve the fisherman from protecting his plugs at the risk of life, limb or bastille.

The second primary point in which the Tennessean failed in his masquerade was in his method. He cut a hole in the roof of the clothing store directly above the work shirts, let the fish hooks straight down, and pulled the shirts straight up. That man deserves anything that happens to him!

The least he could have done, had there been a spark of the Ike Walton spirit in him, was to cast over behind a counter, or into the eddy by the stock room door. Not even the laziest cane pole fisherman is ever satisfied unless his float is actually resting on the water three feet farther out than his line could possibly reach.

As for the bait-casting men, who are the ones that use plugs, in a long life of fishing I have never seen one who could be happy unless his cast zigged around a tree limb, zagged to one side of a boulder, turned a bend in the shore and dropped on the water just the other side of a submerged bedstead.

Anyone who would be satisfied with less is not a fisherman, and when they catch the guy in Tennessee I hope they put him to cleaning carp in expiation for having misrepresented honest men.

Plan For Recreation

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In the Saturday Star of May 26 was a letter that was most distressing to persons interested in recreation. This letter attacked the hospital proposal because the Lincoln taxpayers "should spend their money on things that are badly needed, such as . . . schools and recreational facilities for their children. This city is badly in need of more recreational facilities . . . development of our parks is most necessary, including many local tracts such as the Rogers Tract . . ."

How much information do people lack?

The hospital bond proposal is to finance the development of the 50-acre Rogers Tract that has been a weed patch since 1948 because the city has no money to fix it up. Twenty acres are for medical purposes, including a school and a rehabilitation center for children and the medically handicapped. The proposal includes $300,000 for developing the other 30 acres into ornamental parks, a swimming pool, a skating facility, tennis courts, playfields—in short, everything the writer said the taxpayer should spend his money for.

All of this has been described several times in The Lincoln Star.

Lincoln citizens, long proud of a modern, clean city, are faced with simple issues in the June proposals—continue to enjoy an up-to-date, clean city now or mark time and pay more for the same improvements at a future date.

Proposed Authority

Lincoln, Neb.

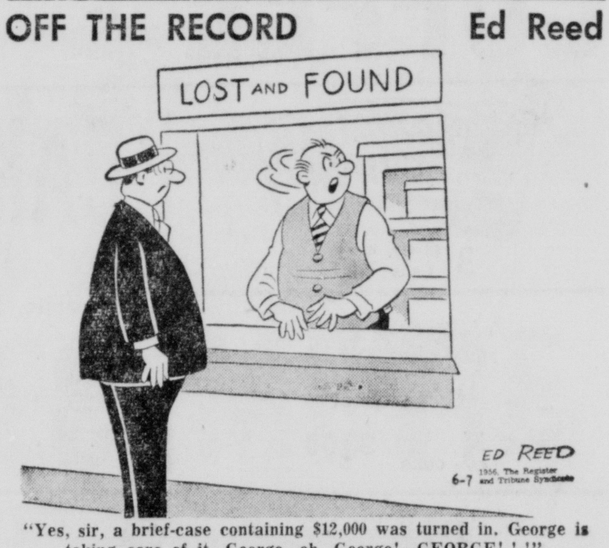

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In my opinion, the Lincoln-Lancaster County Building Authority poses a serious threat to the financial security of city and county taxpayers. The proposed authority would replace the City Council and the county commissioners as the construction supervisors of future public buildings. Also, it fixes the rent chargeable to the taxpayers, and raises the rent whenever deemed necessary.

Further, it would enjoy a perpetual succession, and a permanent tenure in office, by non-elective officials. Finally, members of the authority would have the exclusive power or license to buy and sell city county real estate, such exclusive privilege to buy and sell within their sole and absolute discretion.

In over-all effect, the proposed authority becomes a corporate sovereign, subject to no laws except its own, and will ultimately reduce local taxpayers to the distasteful status of pauperism.

Methodists Approve Hospital Resolution

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—The Nebraska Methodist Conference Wednesday approved a resolution authorizing the Board of Trustees of Bryan Memorial Hospital in Lincoln to co-operate with the Lincoln Community Hospital Assn. and other groups in establishing a proposed new medical center.

The resolution was adopted by a show of hands after 35 minutes of discussion.

The resolution also called for conversion of Bryan Memorial to a general convalescent and gereatrics hospital in conference with the Community Hospital Assn. plans.

The approval resolution also called for co-operation with the association and other groups in terminating or merging the Bryan Memorial Hospital School of Nursing "if such a move becomes necessary or advantageous."

It further stipulated that the authorization is given on condition Lincoln voters approve prior to May 31, 1957, a bond issue for a new medical center "and with the understanding that if the function of Bryan Hospital is altered to conform with the Lincoln association plans the people of Lincoln will co-operate with the Methodist Church in providing financial support for Bryan Hospital."

An amendment said "this resolution shall not be interpreted as either approval or disapproval of such proposed bond issue."

Lincolnites Lead Support

Support for the resolution was led during the discussion by Layman William Frye and these Lincoln pastors—Dr. Frank Court, the Rev. Bruce Gideon, Dr. Harold Sandall and Dr. Vance Rogers.

Opposition was led by the Rev. B. E. Bessire of St. Edward.

A total of 432 ministers, lay delegates and guests registered Wednesday for opening sessions of the conference. Sessions continue through Sunday.

A composite report from district superintendents was read by the Rev. Dr. John W. Ekwall of McCook.

The report said the number of Methodists in Nebraska had increased from 62,289 fifty years ago to 123,027 at the present time.

(Another story on the conference appears on page 29.)

Methodists Approve Hospital Resolution

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—The Nebraska Methodist Conference Wednesday approved a resolution authorizing the Board of Trustees of Bryan Memorial Hospital in Lincoln to co-operate with the Lincoln Community Hospital Assn. and other groups in establishing a proposed new medical center.

The resolution was adopted by a show of hands after 35 minutes of discussion.

The resolution also called for conversion of Bryan Memorial to a general convalescent and gereatrics hospital in conference with the Community Hospital Assn. plans.

The approval resolution also called for co-operation with the association and other gronps in terminating or merging the Bryan Memorial Hospital School of Nursing "if such a move becomes necessary or advantageous."

It further stipulated that the authorization is given on condition Lincoln voters approve prior to May 31, 1957, a bond issue for a new medical center "and with the understanding that if the function of Bryan Hospital is altered to conform with the Lincoln association plans the people of Lincoln will co-operate with the Methodist Church in providing pinancial support for Bryan Hospital."

An amendment said "this resolution shall not be interpreted as either approval or disapproval of such proposed bond issue."

Lincolnites Lead Support

Support for the resolution was led during the discussion by Layman William Frye and these Lincoln pastors—Dr. Frank Court, the Rev. Bruce Gideon, Dr. Harold Sandall and Dr. Vance Rogers.

Opposition was led by the Rev. B. E. Bessire of St. Edward.

A total of 432 ministers, lay delegates and guests registered Wednesday for opening sessions of the conference. Sessions continue through Sunday.

A composite report from district superintendents was read by the Rev. Dr. John W. Ekwall of McCook.

The report said the number of Methodists in Nebraska had increased from 62,289 fifty years ago to 123,027 at the present time.

(Another story on the conference appears on page 29.)

DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

It is really something when a lady takes to crime. And I notice in the journals lately a whole rash of nice bookkeepers are being booked for juggling the accounts.

A lady in the East knocked off more than the Brink's robbery. It took her half a lifetime. But she stuck with it and ran up a score that must make an honest burglar wonder if it is all worthwhile.

☆ ☆ ☆

I guess what makes it odd is that stealing is not a ladylike crime. I can remember only one time I went over to the women's side of the jail to inverview a lady on such a matter.

She turned out to have short hair and a build like a truck driver. She was in for battering a sailor with her shoe heel. ("He wouldn't let go of the wallet.") I wouldn't go in the same cage with her until the matron promised to stay, too.

I discount the criminal intent of ladies who empty a clip of hard bullets into their lovers.

"Joe was the sweetest guy on earth!"

During the Dillinger days, a good many ladies were nabbed by the FBI. There was Ma Barker and Bonnie Parker and a score of lesser girls who cooked the groceries and swabbed out the tommyguns and did other household chores.

But they were simply taking an interest in their boy friends' business.

It is a little different when a nice middle-aged lady tinkers with the double entry and takes the overflow home in her foxy pocket.

☆ ☆ ☆

When a gentleman teller begins taking samples home from the bank, we usually find him eventually in a new Cadillac with matching blonde. Bucking the tiger at Reno, Las Vegas or Miami.

When a teen-age baby sitter wrings out the teapot, she takes off for New York and a room in the Waldorf Tower.

Income tax dodgers wind up in a penthouse in Mexico City.

But this lady book duster doesn't even take the 15-day all-expense tour to the Grand Canyon.

"I gave most of it away to friends," she told the police.

And this seems the sad part. A pigeon plucker with a routine that stood up some 30 years. And nowhere to go.

☆ ☆ ☆

I suppose this is why few ladies make criminal news. They simply haven't the imagination for it.

I have talked to ladies who had just ice-picked the sweetest guy on earth. They did not try to hide the corpse or sink Joe in a block of cement. They did not try to throw suspicion on the butler.

They just wanted to talk about the events leading up to when Joe went to his reward. And frankly, I never heard such an uneventful background. I often thought Joe deserved a severe jab for leading the doll such a dull life.

No question about it, a woman's place is in the home.

Also, nobody should keep loaded firearms in the house.

Since reading what a determined bookkeeper can do, I have started being nice to lady bookkeepers. Who knows when they may find the teapot overflowing and need a friend?

I watch the ladies on the bus going home. If they have a trace of ink on the fingers, I rise and offer my seat. I am gallant as can be.

It is perfectly obvious that the ladies who keep our accounts are unaccountable when it comes to getting rid of the loot.

I mean the loot, girls. The booty, the merchandise. The score, the hot stuff. The plunder, the clout, the bundle. And hey-ho for Paris in the spring!

DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

It is really something when a lady takes to crime. And I notice in the journals lately a whole rash of nice bookkeepers are being booked for juggling the accounts.

A lady in the East knocked off more than the Brink's robbery. It took her half a lifetime. But she stuck with it and ran up a score that must make an honest burglar wonder if it is all worthwhile.

☆ ☆ ☆

I guess what makes it odd is that stealing is not a ladylike crime. I can remember only one time I went over to the women's side of the jail to inverview a lady on such a matter.

She turned out to have short hair and a build like a truck driver. She was in for battering a sailor with her shoe heel. ("He wouldn't let go of the wallet.") I wouldn't go in the same cage with her until the matron promised to stay, too.

I discount the criminal intent of ladies who empty a clip of hard bullets into their lovers.

"Joe was the sweetest guy on earth!"

During the Dillinger days, a good many ladies were nabbed by the FBI. There was Ma Barker and Bonnie Parker and a score of lesser girls who cooked the groceries and swabbed out the tommyguns and did other household chores.

But they were simply taking an interest in their boy friends' business.

It is a little different when a nice middle-aged lady tinkers with the double entry and takes the overflow home in her foxy pocket.

☆ ☆ ☆

When a gentleman teller begins taking samples home from the bank, we usually find him eventually in a new Cadillac with matching blonde. Bucking the tiger at Reno, Las Vegas or Miami.

When a teen-age baby sitter wrings out the teapot, she takes off for New York and a room in the Waldorf Tower.

Income tax dodgers wind up in a penthouse in Mexico City.

But this lady book duster doesn't even take the 15-day all-expense tour to the Grand Canyon.

"I gave most of it away to friends," she told the police.

And this seems the sad part. A pigeon plucker with a routine that stood up some 30 years. And nowhere to go.

☆ ☆ ☆

I suppose this is why few ladies make criminal news. They simply haven't the imagination for it.

I have talked to ladies who had just ice-picked the sweetest guy on earth. They did not try to hide the corpse or sink Joe in a block of cement. They did not try to throw suspicion on the butler.

They just wanted to talk about the events leading up to when Joe went to his reward. And frankly, I never heard such an uneventful background. I often thought Joe deserved a severe jab for leading the doll such a dull life.

No question about it, a woman's place is in the home.

Also, nobody should keep loaded firearms in the house.

Since reading what a determined bookkeeper can do, I have started being nice to lady bookkeepers. Who knows when they may find the teapot overflowing and need a friend?

I watch the ladies on the bus going home. If they have a trace of ink on the fingers, I rise and offer my seat. I am gallant as can be.

It is perfectly obvious that the ladies who keep our accounts are unaccountable when it comes to getting rid of the loot.

I mean the loot, girls. The booty, the merchandise. The score, the hot stuff. The plunder, the clout, the bundle. And hey-ho for Paris in the spring!

Proposals To Double Bond Debt

. . . For Lincoln

Lincoln's total bonded debt would more than double if bonds as proposed in the June 26 special election were authorized and sold

The June 26 ballot will contain proposed amendments to the city charter which would permit issuance of $4.8 million in bonds for a medical and recreational center and $1,240,000 for a new main library

If authorized and sold these proposals would increase the bonded debt by $3,040,000. The current bonded debt of Lincoln is $4,480,000 which combined with the two proposals would make a total debt of $10,520,000

For the current year, the city has made a levy of 1.124 mills to pay off bond principal and interest. Tax requirements for the above two special election issues have been estimated at 2.125 mills

More Taxes

In addition the June 26 election will contain a proposed $5 million joint building. While an obligation of the City County Building Authority, if the city or county government this issue will be paid by the people of Lincoln and Lancaster County through taxes

The joint building proposal has been estimated to have an additional city tax requirement of 625 mills and a county need for 68 mills.

The city's present bonded debt is composed of the following issues

Bonds Outstanding

A $300,000 aviation issue sold in 1941 with an interest rate of 1.6 per cent still has $180,000 outstanding

A $150,000 main sanitary sewer issue sold in 1948 with an interest rate of 1¾ per cent has $30,000 outstanding

A $1,100,000 auditorium issue sold in 1941 with an interest rate of 1¼ per cent has $385,000 outstanding

A $150,000,000 auditorium issue sold in 1954 with an interest rate of 1.653 per cent has $1,435,000 outstanding

A $1,200,000 storm sewer issue sold in 1954 with an interest rate of 1.649 per cent has $1,150,000 outstanding

A $1,300,000 storm sewer issue sold May 1, 1956 with an interest rate of 2.49 per cent is all outstanding.

SEWARD, Neb. — Nebraskans again hit hard at polio in the 1956 March of Dimes, it was announced by Ted R. Hughes, Seward, state March of Dimes chairman.

According to county reports forwarded to National Headquarters for final audit, Nebraskans gave $590,512 76 for a per capita average of 44½ cents This is approximately 20 per cent less than the final total of $733,642 47 recorded in 1955.

The decrease is attributed by Hughes to three factors: (1) Low polio incidence in Nebraska in 1955 (277 as against 721 in 1954), (2) drought combined with certain other agricultural economic conditions; and (3) the false assumption on the part of some that with the advent of the Salk vaccine, the polio battle was at an end

Kearney County Led

The state's highest per capita contribution — $1 12 — came from the people of Kearney County (Minden) under the leadership of Emil Nelson. This marks the fourth time in the past eight years that Kearney County has held first place in the state. At no time during this period has the county under Nelson's leadership fallen below fourth place in per capita giving, Hughes said.

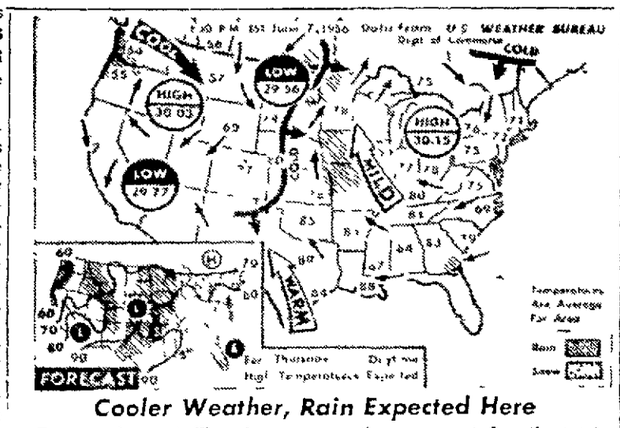

Other high per capita contributions among counties with populations of from 6,000 to 12,500 included Washington (Mrs. Harriett Jaenike, Blair) 94c, and Cheyenne (Mrs Charles Ham, Sidney) 86c Washington County has been listed among the first four highest per capita contributors seven times in the past eight years, the state chairman reported.

Among counties with populations of less than 6,000, Kimball (Mrs. Bill Blackman, Kimball) led the list with 89c; Sioux (W. E. Mumby, Harrison) 85c; and Banner (Mrs. Rose Shafto, Harrisburg) 80c.

In the population grouping of 12,500 to 19,000 Seward County (Ted R. Hughes, Seward) with 71c headed the list followed by Cedar (Neal Felber, Laurel) 58c; and Holt (Art Givens, Stuart) 55c

The highest per capita contributing counties among the 19,000 to 35,000 population grouping were Scotts Bluff (Leonard Harrison, Gering) 88c, Lincoln County (Gene Brase, North Platte) 63c; and Dodge (William Dugan, Fremont) 58c.

In the population grouping of over 35,000 Lancaster County under the leadership of Harold Osborn, led with an average per capita contribution of 38c.

Coffee Receives NU Builder Award

Harry B. Coffee, former Nebraska congressman who in recent years has been instrumental in making Omaha the world's largest livestock market and meat packing center, will receive next Monday the Nebraska Builder Award, highest non-academic honor bestowed by the University.

C. Y. Thompson of West Point, member of the board of regents, will present the award at the University's 85th commencement exercises.

HARRY B. COFFEE

Regents announced Coffee was selected because of his contributions to the university and the State of Nebraska

As president of the Union Stock Yards Co. of Omaha, Coffee has encouraged the packing industry to enlarge present facilities and build new plants.

Although prior to 1943, Omaha's total livestock receipts were about 50 per cent of Chicago's, last year Omaha received more livestock than did Chicago and the Omaha area slaughtered, under federal inspection, 37 per cent more cattle, hogs and sheep than did the Chicago area.

Both Coffee and his wife, the former Katharine Newbranch, are University of Nebraska graduates.

Coffee's parents came to Nebraska from Texas and Coffee was born on a ranch in Sioux County and attended the Chadron public schools.

After university graduation, he established a real estate and insurance business at Chadron and subsequently organized a family corporation, the Coffee Cattle Co. In 35 years, prior to sale of the property in 1950, the company's ranch holdings increased from 3,000 to 19,000 acres.

From 1935 to 1943 Coffee served in Congress and on his retirement from politics, was elected to his present Omaha Stock Yards position.

He has served as governor of Ak-Sar-Ben, was 1952 King of Ak-Sar-Ben, served as first chairman of the Omaha sanitation commission and is a past chairman of the board of the American Stock Yards Assn.

Nearly 930 University of Nebraska students will receive degrees at the Monday commencement. Speaker will be Dr. Harold Stoke, dean of the graduate school of arts and sciences at New York University.

Quality makes the difference in gasolines!

That's why...in Mid-America

MORE CHEVROLET OWNERS USE STANDARD GASOLINES THAN ANY OTHER BRAND

...Cadillacs, too!

We believe that leadership in sales is a reflection of the quality of products and services offered by Standard. STANDARD Gasolines, for example—both WHITE CROWN Premium and RED CROWN—have been raised in octane levels again and again. Now, they have just been given another octane boost. There is a STANDARD Gasoline that's right for your car . . . to fulfill the exacting anti-knock requirements of high compression 1956 cars . . . and older cars as well. STANDARD Gasolines are seasonally balanced, too, with controlled volatility to prevent vapor lock in hot summer weather. These fine, clean-burning gasolines are designed for all 'round smooth, efficient, economical performance.

That's why more Chevrolet and Cadillac owners, and for that matter, more owners of all these cars—Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick, Ford, Lincoln, Mercury, Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto, Chrysler, Imperial, Nash, Hudson, Studebaker and Packard—use STANDARD Gasolines than any other brand.

Both Coffee and his wife, the former Katharine Newbranch, are University of Nebraska graduates.

Coffee's parents came to Nebraska from Texas and Coffee was born on a ranch in Sioux County and attended the Chadron public schools.

After university graduation, he established a real estate and insurance business at Chadron and subsequently organized a family corporation, the Coffee Cattle Co. In 35 years, prior to sale of the property in 1950, the company's ranch holdings increased from 3,000 to 19,000 acres.

From 1935 to 1943 Coffee served in Congress and on his retirement from politics, was elected to his present Omaha Stock Yards position.

He has served as governor of Ak-Sar-Ben, was 1952 King of Ak-Sar-Ben, served as first chairman of the Omaha sanitation commission and is a past chairman of the board of the American Stock Yards Assn.

Nearly 930 University of Nebraska students will receive degrees at the Monday commencement. Speaker will be Dr. Harold Stoke, dean of the graduate school of arts and sciences at New York University.

Quality makes the difference in gasolines!

MORE CHEVROLET OWNERS USE STANDARD GASOLINES THAN ANY OTHER BRAND

...Cadillacs, too!

We believe that leadership in sales is a reflection of the quality of products and services offered by Standard. STANDARD Gasolines, for example—both WHITE CROWN Premium and RED CROWN—have been raised in octane levels again and again. Now, they have just been given another octane boost. There is a STANDARD Gasoline that's right for your car . . . to fulfill the exacting anti-knock requirements of high compression 1956 cars . . . and older cars as well. STANDARD Gasolines are seasonally balanced, too, with controlled volatility to prevent vapor lock in hot summer weather. These fine, clean-burning gasolines are designed for all 'round smooth, efficient, economical performance.

That's why more Chevrolet and Cadillac owners, and for that matter, more owners of all these cars—Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick, Ford, Lincoln, Mercury, Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto, Chrysler, Imperial, Nash, Hudson, Studebaker and Packard—use STANDARD Gasolines than any other brand.

CAN MOTOR OIL SAVE GAS?

Your car can give you more gas mileage than you're getting . . . if you use Super PERMALUBE! See your Standard Dealer . . . he will tell you how and why.

State Fair Ground Features New Lighted Gate, Coliseum

Nebraskans attending the State Fair Sept. 1-7 will notice something missing and something new.

Missing will be the 47-year-old coliseum, which has been razed to make way for a new $400,000 structure to be ready for the 1957 fair. Construction is expected to start in about two weeks, according to Ed Schultz, Fair Board secretary.

New will be the modern gates at the front entrance to the grounds. A truck, a bit too high to get under it, demolished the old brick archway.

Featuring the new entrance will be a modernistic ticket booth, floodlights, flagpoles and steel mesh gates. The ticket booth's entrance will provide for a total of ten lanes of traffic as compared with only seven lanes in the old gates.

The new coliseum will be 200 by 280 feet with an arena area of 200 by 85. Seating capacity for arena events will be about 4,000 persons and the capacity for stage shows will be about 7,500.

Livestock judging events usually held in the coliseum probably will be held under canvas this year, Schultz said.

Dobson Bid Low For Water Main

Dobson and Robinson Construction Co. has submittee the low bid of $59,838 at the City Hall for construction of a 24-inch water main in 16th from L to Washington.

The new main, estimated at $61,000, will complete the water transmission line connection between the city's A Street and 51st Street pumping stations. With the new line, the major part of the city could be served from either station.

In other bidding, Abel Construction Co. was low at $62,925 for the paving of Vine from 56th to Cotner. The street will be 38 feet wide with the city paying $13,200 of the total cost.

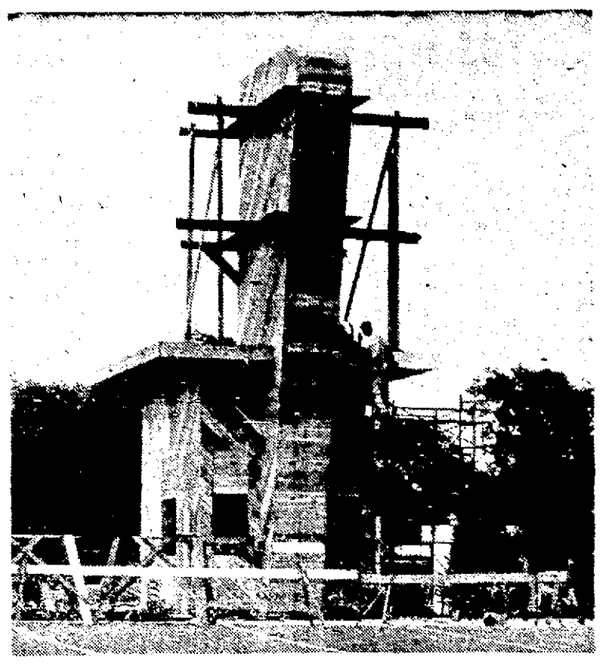

The city's share represents the difference between the cost to abutting property owners of regular 26-foot wide residential paving as against the 38-foot arterial width.

Able was low also at $38,687 on the paving of Wilshire from 56th Vine to Wilshire.

WU, Unions Approve New 2-Year Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western Union Telegraph Co. reached agreement Wednesday with two unions on a new two-year contract covering 45,000 workers.

The pact calls for a 13-cent hourly pay boost and improved pensions and messenger allowances retroactive to June 1, plus 5 cents in job "inequity" changes effective next Jan. 1.

The unions involved are the Commercial Telegraphers Union (AFL-CIO) and the American Communications Assn. (Ind.).

They had sought a 27-cent increase in wages and other improvements. The workers' average earnings have been $1.88 hourly.

Residence Damaged By Night Blaze

An early-morning fire Wednesday caused an estimated $2,900 damage to the residence at 1310 A occupied by the William H. Spivey family.

The Fire Department reported the blaze started in a bedroom and spread to other parts of the one-story frame house.

Technicality Kills Rehearing Motion For Grandsinger

A motion requesting a rehearing in the Loyd Grandsinger case was turned down on technical grounds by the State Supreme Court late Wednesday.

Attorney Eugene D. O'Sullivan, Omaha, acting in Grandsinger's behalf, said he would file another motion in separate form at a later date.

The reason given for the turndown was because the motion and a brief both were contained in the same document.

George Turner, Supreme Court clerk, asked that the motion be contained in separate written form for filing purposes.

O'Sullivan reported the brief contained new facts that previously had not been brought out. The brief was expected to be filed in the near future.

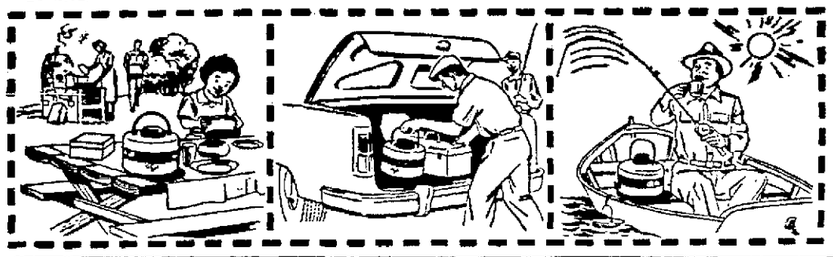

Grandsinger has been given until July 10th by the U. S. Supreme Court to make an appearance through his attorney in a request for a retrial.

A death sentence against Grandsinger, followed the death of Safety Patrolman Marvin Hansen, has twice been stayed pending legal action in his behalf.

Pilot Relives Bailout Details Through Truth Serum

BURBANK, Calif. (INS) —The use of truth serum and hypnosis made possible the disclosure Wednesday of dramatic details of a test pilot's fight for life to eject himself from a disintegrating supersonic jet plane.

The story of the struggle against the failing aircraft and battering wind high in the sky over the Mojave Desert was related by Lockheed flier Herman (Fish) Salmon after hypnosis had recalled the episode vividly to mind.

Sodium pentothal, the so-called "truth drug," was administered to the 42-year-old father of four and he was questioned by Lockheed officials during the drug-induced trance because the shock of the brush with death had locked much of the information in his subconscious mind.

Relived

During the questioning, which was conducted and recorded in the office of a North Hollywood psychiatrist, Dr. George Thompson, Salmon relived the bailout from the F-104 Starfighter so vividly that at one point he exclaimed:

"Ouch, I hurt my arm."

The slight injury to the arm was the only hurt he suffered.

Here is the tape-recorded account of the accident, which occurred while testing armament on the new, knife-winged, 1,500 mile-an-hour jet at Muroc gunnery range:

"There was a helluva a racket in the airplane . . . right after the explosion, I told them on the ground I blew the canopy because I couldn't see it . . .

"I started coming down to beat the band because it was kind of rough breathing at 47,000 feet . . . somewhere I'd lost the afterburner . . . by the time I got to 40,000 feet, I knew I wasn't going to make it . . . I was scared because the airplane was shaking and the stuff flying around the cockpit . . .

"I thought the next thing to do was to get down to 20,000 . . . I decided to jump.

"I wrestled around and tried to get hold of the ring for my safety ejection seat . . . I heard the bang when the seat went out.

(The Starfighter's seat ejects downward through the plane's bottom.)

A Breeze

Asked how far he fell before he opened the chute, Salmon said:

"I would estimate between 4,000 and 5,000 feet. I pulled the D-ring . . . it was a breeze . . . The seat separated real readily. I don't think I ever saw the airplane at all . . . I saw a flash of fire on the ground and I knew it must have been the airplane."

Salmon's life probably was saved by his crash helmet, which cushioned blows on his head when he hit the rocky ground.

'Exploding' Bottle Of Pop Brings Suit For $1,100 Injuries

Jeanette F. Lawson of 315 No. 35th has filed a $1,100 suit in Lancaster District Court for personal injuries allegedly suffered from an "exploding" soft drink bottle.

Named suit defendants were Gardner Moore, owner of Ideal Grocery and Market at 905 So. 27th, and Robert H. Hudson, doing business as Pepsi Cola Bottling Co., 711 So. 25th.

Mrs. Lawson alleges she was severely cut on the leg from a piece of flying glass when a bottle in a six-bottle carton "exploded, bursting the bottle."

She stated she had picked up the carton while shopping in the grocery store on June 7, 1952.

She asked $1,000 for injuries and $100 for medical expenses.

Pilot Relives Bailout Details Through Truth Serum

BURBANK, Calif. (INS) —The use of truth serum and hypnosis made possible the disclosure Wednesday of dramatic details of a test pilot's fight for life to eject himself from a disintegrating supersonic jet plane.

Bus Fare Hike Under Advisement

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

The State Railway Commission took under advisement Wednesday a request by Lincoln City Lines for fare increases for both child and adult riders.

The new fare schedule, if granted would raise the adult rate from two tokens for a quarter to four for 55 cents. The cash fare would remain at a straight 15 cents.

The child's fare, previously 15 cents for two tokens, would go to a straight 10 cents with no tokens involved.

The present request is the second within a year's time following a similar request and subsequent denial by the commission last fall. The fare increase request Wednesday was made with the blessing of the City Council which by resolution said it was "vitally interested in maintaining a financially healthy transportation system."

The city, represented by City Attorney Jack Pace conferred its feeling that "it would be in the best interests of the city if the appeal (for the fare increase) were approved."

Only one objector appeared at the hearing, that being Atty. Leo Bartunek, defeated candidate for municipal judge. Bartunek, who said he was representing himself, changed his opposition when it was explained the city had done all possible for the City Lines by exempting them from occupation taxes and aiding in snow removal and tree cutting from the bus expenses.

Representing the bus company in its plea were Ralph E. James, Chicago, vice president in charge of operations of National City Lines, parent to the Lincoln unit, and Frank R. Money, Chicago, director of research and statistics for the National City Lines.

Money told the commissioners through 18 presented exhibits that passenger revenue miles on the Lincoln lines had dropped to about five million from a high of more than 11 million in 1948. This reflected, he said, in a lower revenue for passengers per mile and a lowered net income.

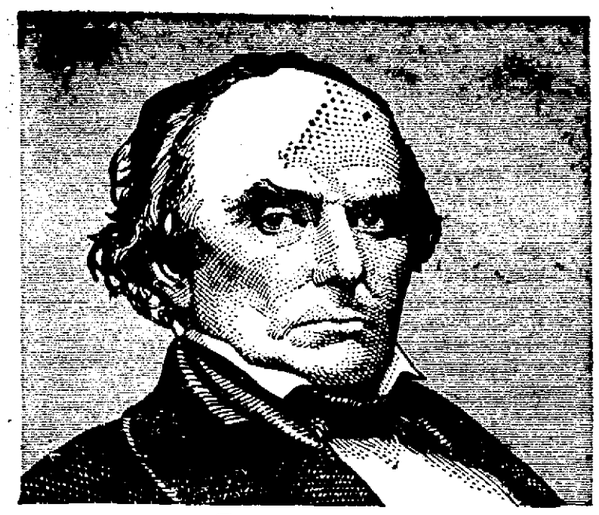

James, in testifying, said the picture is "anything but a healthy one" financially. He said it was a question of reducing service or hiking fares and that experience had shown the best method was increasing fares.

Wages Discussed

A question of including possible wage increases for City Lines drivers was answered by James who said negotiations with the drivers' union 10 days ago produced a temporary agreement.

This, however, would be based on whether or not the commission granted the fare increase, James said. He related the discussed wage increases included a seven-cents-an-hour hike for beginners and an additional three-cent an hour raise for second year drivers.

Money said the company's net income has declined from $60,883 in 1953 to $39,945 in 1955. The company, however, listed $320,000 in cash reserves at the time the Commission last denied its fare hike request.

Bus Fare Hike Under Advisement

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

The State Railway Commission took under advisement Wednesday a request by Lincoln City Lines for fare increases for both child and adult riders.

The new fare schedule, if granted would raise the adult rate from two tokens for a quarter to four for 55 cents. The cash fare would remain at a straight 15 cents.

The child's fare, previously 15 cents for two tokens, would go to a straight 10 cents with no tokens involved.

The present request is the second within a year's time following a similar request and subsequent denial by the commission last fall. The fare increase request Wednesday was made with the blessing of the City Council which by resolution said it was "vitally interested in maintaining a financially healthy transportation system."

The city, represented by City Attorney Jack Pace conferred its feeling that "it would be in the best interests of the city if the appeal (for the fare increase) were approved."

Only one objector appeared at the hearing, that being Atty. Leo Bartunek, defeated candidate for municipal judge. Bartunek, who said he was representing himself, changed his opposition when it was explained the city had done all possible for the City Lines by exempting them from occupation taxes and aiding in snow removal and tree cutting from the bus expenses.

Representing the bus company in its plea were Ralph E. James, Chicago, vice president in charge of operations of National City Lines, parent to the Lincoln unit, and Frank R. Money, Chicago, director of research and statistics for the National City Lines.

Money told the commissioners through 18 presented exhibits that passenger revenue miles on the Lincoln lines had dropped to about five million from a high of more than 11 million in 1948. This reflected, he said, in a lower revenue for passengers per mile and a lowered net income.

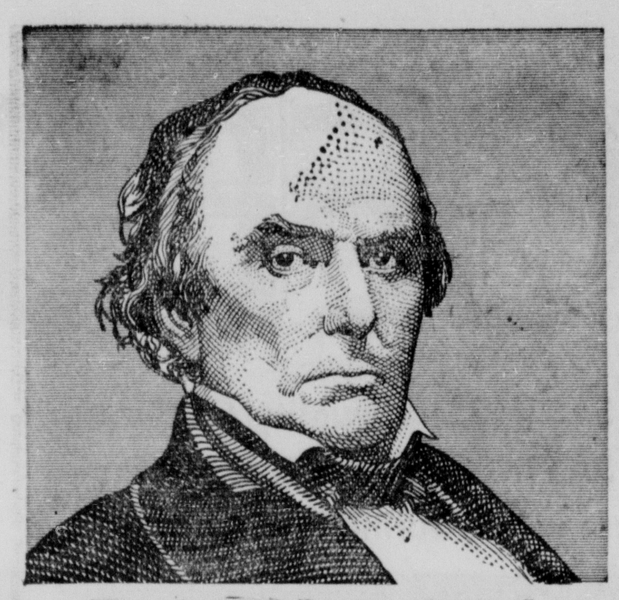

James, in testifying, said the picture is "anything but a healthy one" financially. He said it was a question of reducing service or hiking fares and that experience had shown the best method was increasing fares.

Wages Discussed

A question of including possible wage increases for City Lines drivers was answered by James who said negotiations with the drivers' union 10 days ago produced a temporary agreement.

This, however, would be based on whether or not the commission granted the fare increase, James said. He related the discussed wage increases included a seven-cents-an-hour hike for beginners and an additional three-cent an hour raise for second year drivers.

Money said the company's net income has declined from $60,883 in 1953 to $39,945 in 1955. The company, however, listed $520,000 in cash reserves at the time the Commission last denied its fare hike request.

RED CLOUD, NEB.—

Chance Remark Led To Exciting Discovery

This is the second in a series of articles prepared with the help of Mrs. Lida Trine of Red Cloud, an Associated Press correspondent who was present during some of the exploratory work at the Pawnee Indian village site near Red Cloud.

RED CLOUD, Neb. (AP)—A chance remark about the discovery of an Indian skeleton and an old Spanish saddle led to one of Nebraska's most significant historical finds.

For years the late A. T. Hill, later to become director of the Nebraska Historical Society Museum, had been searching for the site of the Pawnee Indian village described by Zebulon Pike, the army explorer who brought the news of the Louisana purchase to remote parts of Nebraska, fanning out from the Lewis and Clark trail.

It was in 1923 that Hill finally got the clue that brought him success. An old settler told him where the skeleton and saddle had been found five years earlier, and directed him to the site, then known as the Dewitt farm.

Bought Tract

Two years later Hill bought the 320-acre tract to preserve the site, after he, A. E. Sheldon, the state historian, and others had excavated the graves and convinced themselves there was evidence here of a past community.

Further escavations followed, producing many relics, and the searchers became convinced that here rather than in the vicinity of Republic, Kan., was the spot where Pike saw the Spanish flag hauled down in Nebraska for the last time.

The Bostwick Irrigation project in the Republican River Valley spurred further explorations and now several chambers of commerce including the Red Cloud chamber, are seeking bits of evidence to fill out the story of the past.

When Hill first located the site he was told that when the land was broken in 1872 it was covered with Indian lodge rings, fortifications, walls, caches, etc. Then the homesteaders gathered a great number of stone mauls, axes, war clubs and other relics which since have proved invaluable, dumped them into a hole, and covered them over with a plow.

It was on May 18, 1924 that Hill and Sheldon's party opened the graves on the hill above the ancient village.

In one grave, that of a child, they found a pipe of the rarest workmanship, and beads made from animal bones and mussel shells of the kind found in Nebraska streams. The complete skeleton of an eagle rested on the child's breast, indicating the child had been held in high esteem.

In other graves opened articles were found which showed white traders had visited the village. Some skeletons still were wrapped in the remains of buffalo robes. Others had copper wire with verdigris twisted in the black hair, and still others were buried with emblems of rank and authority. The highest point on the hill was reserved for braves. The women and children were buried lower down on the hill.

Hill said the pottery work, flint and stone implements, bone awls and hide-tanning tools were of the same design and workmenship as that of the Pawnees on the Platte and Loup rivers.

The diggings also yielded Spanish bridle bits and spurs, United States, British and Spanish peace medals, coins, and soldiers buttons. One of the bittons bore 15 stars and the number "1" the number of Pike's rifle company.

Medals Found

A General Washington medal was apparently of the 1777 or 1778 issue. Another American medal was dated 1801. An English medal bore the likeness of George III and was dated 1772. One Spanish medal was dated 1797.

Besides the Pawnee cenetery, searchers have found the site of an old stockade, dating from 1780, located on a knoll about a mile from the business section of Red Cloud, and the site on a bluff directly south of the city where Chief Medicine Horse's daughter was buried in 1874.

It was in 1923 that Hill finally got the clue that brought him success. An old settler told him where the skeleton and saddle had been found five years earlier, and directed him to the site, then known as the Dewitt farm.

Bought Tract

Two years later Hill bought the 320-acre tract to preserve the site, after he, A. E. Sheldon, the state historian, and others had excavated the graves and convinced themselves there was evidence here of a past community.

Further escavations followed, producing many relics, and the searchers became convinced that here rather than in the vicinity of Republic, Kan., was the spot where Pike saw the Spanish flag hauled down in Nebraska for the last time.

The Bostwick Irrigation project in the Republican River Valley spurred further explorations and now several chambers of commerce including the Red Cloud chamber, are seeking bits of evidence to fill out the story of the past.

When Hill first located the site he was told that when the land was broken in 1872 it was covered with Indian lodge rings, fortifications, walls, caches, etc. Then the homesteaders gathered a great number of stone mauls, axes, war clubs and other relics which since have proved invaluable, dumped them into a hole, and covered them over with a plow.

It was on May 18, 1924 that Hill and Sheldon's party opened the graves on the hill above the ancient village.

In one grave, that of a child, they found a pipe of the rarest workmanship, and beads made from animal bones and mussel shells of the kind found in Nebraska streams. The complete skeleton of an eagle rested on the child's breast, indicating the child had been held in high esteem.

In other graves opened articles were found whiich showed white traders had visited the village. Some skeletons still were wrapped in the remains of buffalo robes. Others had copper wire with verdigris twisted in the black hair, and still others were buried with emblems of rank and authority. The highest point on the hill was reserved for braves. The women and children were buried lower down on the hill.

Hill said the pottery work, flint and stone implements, bone awls and hide-tanning tools were of the same design and workmenship as that of the Pawnees on the Platte and Loup rivers.

The diggings also yielded Spanish bridle bits and spurs, United States, British and Spanish peace medals, coins, and soldiers buttons. One of the bittons bore 15 stars and the number "1" the number of Pike's rifle company.

Medals Found

A General Washington medal was apparently of the 1777 or 1778 issue. Another American medal was dated 1801. An English medal bore the likeness of George III and was dated 1772. One Spanish medal was dated 1797.

Besides the Pawnee cenetery, searchers have found the site of an old stockade, dating from 1780, located on a knoll about a mile from the business section of Red Cloud, and the site on a bluff directly south of the city where Chief Medicine Horse's daughter was buried in 1874.

Seaton's Appointment Given Okay By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday confirmed the nomination of Fred A. Seaton to be secretary of the interior by unanimous vote.

The action followed unanimous approval of the Nebraska publisher, cattle raiser and former senator by the Senate Interior Committee Tuesday.

Both Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Knowland of California commended the appointment and said they were happy to see a former colleague elevated to the Cabinet.

The only other speaker was Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) who said he had voted to confirm Seaton in the Interior Committee but felt he must point out that the Nebraskan was becoming head of the Interior Department in an administration "that has done more damage to true conservation than any in modern times."

The Oregon senator said Seaton is faced with numerous tough questions including whether to approve a high federal dam at the Hell's Canyon site on the Oregon-Idaho border, whether to resist what Neuberger called commercial encroachments on the nation's park system, whether to grant mining claims and oil and gas leases on public lands, and several others.

How he meets these challenges, Neuberger said, will determine whether Seaton goes down in history as "another Douglas McKay or Gifford Pinchot."

Seaton succeeds McKay in the interior post.

Another nomination — that of Charles J. Lowen Jr. of Denver to be administrator of the Civil Aeronautics Administration — was confirmed just as quickly, but with one dissent.

A voice vote completed action on Lowen's nomination, which was vocally opposed only by Sen. Wofford (D-SC) who has questioned Lowen's stand on racial segregation.

Hottest Spot In Cabinet, Says Miller

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fred A. Seaton, recently nominated Secretary of the Interior, met briefly Wednesday with members of the House Interior Committee.

Seaton was asked no questions on specific policies during the 10-minute session but assured the committee he would seek "to carry out laws which the Congress has passed" and the policies "enunciated by the President."

A Nebraskan, Seaton was introduced by Rep. Miller (R-Neb), ranking minority member of the committee. Miller described the secretaryship as the "hottest spot in the cabinet" in view of its connection with "Indians, public power and a half dozen other interesting problems."

Valley Driver Fatally Hurt

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — Chris A. Grover, 58, of Valley died in a Fremont hospital Wednesday of injuries suffered in a one-car crash four miles southeast of here on Highway 8.

Grover died about an hour after the accident.

Authorities said Grover's auto left the road on a straight stretch and crashed into a tree. He was pinned in the auto. Grover was alone.

The death raised to 121 the number of persons injured fatally in Nebraska traffic accidents this year, as compared to 122 at the same time in 1955.

Rodenburg Confirmed As Deshler Postmaster

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate confirmed the nomination of Edward A. Rodenburg to be postmaster at Deshler, Neb.

President Eisenhower has sent the Senate four more nominations for Nebraska postmasterships. They are: Enoch D. Long, Chappell; Robert B. Shaw, Guide Rock; Joel A. Schleiger, Overton; and Elmer R. Henkel, Ralston.

Quick Action On Soil Bank Praised

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hruska lauded the Department of Agriculture for its quick action putting the Soil Bank plan into limited operation.

"Even partial operation of the Soil Bank coming at a time when farm prices are on the upturn will give new impetus to full recovery on farm prosperity," Hruska said. "Fast, efficient administration of the 1.2 billion dollar soil bank contains great hope for the farmer.

"Farm prices have now recovered to levels of a year ago, but prices paid by farmers for products they buy still are climbing. The price squeeze still is on. But the soil bank program promises to make a wholesome contribution to returning the farmer to his rightful share of the nation's prosperity," Hruska commented.

Nebraskan Teaching Aleuts Finds 'Life Interesting'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Nebraskan describes as "very interesting" life on a Bering Sea island, five miles wide and 10 miles long.

That was Charles Dallam's comment to the Nebraska Congressional delegation at its weekly breakfast.

Dallam calls Omaha home but he has taught school at Arlington, Neb., and Platte Center, Neb., and has worked at the Wahoo Ordnance plant at Mead. He and his wife teach school to the Aleuts.

He, along with his wife and son, Dennis, is in the states on vacation. They'll return to St. Paul Island, one of the Pribilof Islands, north of Dutch Harbor, in Alaska, in August.

He has finished his third shift up there: 1944-45, 1949-51 and 1954-55. And he's headed back again. One son Mike, is in Anapolis, Md., a midshipman at the U. S. Naval Academy while the other, Dennis, attends Wentworth Military Academy in Missouri.

There are about 100 pupils, ranging from the first to the 10th grade in the school he teaches.

St. Paul and one of its neighboring islands are the homes of about 95 per cent of the fur bearing seals in the Pacific.

There about 1,500,000 seals and some 60,000-90,000 are clubbed to death every summer. St. Paul, with about 400 inhabitants, including 25 while Americans, is one place, Dallam explains, where there is 100 per cent employment. They average about $3,000 a year, which is a lot of money in that area.

Despite the fact that there are no trees on the island, plenty of wind and that sometimes the island is icebound, Dallam said life there is interesting.

Dallam said he does not feel that Alaska is ready yet for statehood.

Groceries on the island, he said, actually cost about half as much as in this country.

Other guests at the breakfast included Clyde Moore, associate editor of the Fairbury, Neb., newspaper, with his wife and son Steve; Don Boyd of Lincoln and Frances Fowler of Gering who are attending a Young Republican Club conference here.

Nebraskan Teaching Aleuts Finds 'Life Interesting'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Nebraskan describes as "very interesting" life on a Bering Sea island, five miles wide and 10 miles long.

That was Charles Dallam's comment to the Nebraska Congressional delegation at its weekly breakfast.

Dallam calls Omaha home but he has taught school at Arlington, Neb., and Platte Center, Neb., and has worked at the Wahoo Ordnance plant at Mead. He and his wife teach school to the Aleuts.

He, along with his wife and son, Dennis, is in the states on vacation. They'll return to St. Paul Island, one of the Pribilof Islands, north of Dutch Harbor, in Alaska, in August.

He has finished his third shift up there: 1944-45, 1949-51 and 1954-55. And he's headed back again. One son Mike, is in Anapolis, Md., a midshipman at the U. S. Naval Academy while the other, Dennis, attends Wentworth Military Academy in Missouri.

There are about 100 pupils, ranging from the first to the 10th grade in the school he teaches.

St. Paul and one of its neighboring islands are the homes of about 95 per cent of the fur bearing seals in the Pacific.

There about 1,500,000 seals and some 60,000-90,000 are clubbed to death every summer. St. Paul, with about 400 inhabitants, including 25 white Americans, is one place, Dallam explains, where there is 100 per cent employment. They average about $3,000 a year, which is a lot of money in that area.

Despite the fact that there are no trees on the island, plenty of wind and that sometimes the island is icebound, Dallam said life there is interesting.

Dallam said he does not feel that Alaska is ready yet for statehood.

Groceries on the island, he said, actually cost about half as much as in this country.

Proposed School Merger Explained For Burr Area

BURR, Neb. — Rural school board members representing 10 rural school districts in the Burr area met to discuss a proposed reorganization of school districts.

Max Hensley, superintendent of schools at Unadilla, spoke at the first of three meetings scheduled to explain a re-organization of districts that involves rural and town areas in the western part of the county. The Palmyra area is an exception.

Facts and figures prepared by the school board and superintendents of Burr, Unadilla and Douglas concerning two possible school setups were presented at the first meeting.

Plan I calls for the building and operation of a centrally located high school using the school buildings at Burr, Unadilla and Douglas as elementary schools.

The alternate plan, Plan II, calls for the building of a centrally located school that would accommodate both elementary and high school students.

Estimated cost under Plan I was given as $40,000, with an estimated total mill levy of 25 mills. Total estimated operating expense would be $28,900.

Plan II would cost $500,000, with $104,900 for operating expense and result in a 21.5 mill levy.

Hooper Lutheran Church Dedicated

HOOPER, Neb. — Dedication services were held at St. John's Lutheran Church which was recently moved from five miles west of Hooper into town.

Speakers at the dedication were the Rev. Alfred Bergt of Schuyler and Dr. Lawrence Acker of Omaha, former International Lutheran Hour speaker.

In addition to moving the church, a new basement was built, and the altar and front entrance of the church were enlarged. The entire interior of the church was also redecorated.

The Rev. Arnold H. Gebhardt is pastor of the church.

Proposed School Merger Explained For Burr Area

BURR, Neb. — Rural school board members representing 10 rural school districts in the Burr area met to discuss a proposed reorganization of school districts.

Max Hensley, superintendent of schools at Unadilla, spoke at the first of three meetings scheduled to explain a re-organization of districts that involves rural and town areas in the western part of the county. The Palmyra area is an exception.

Facts and figures prepared by the school board and superintendents of Burr, Unadilla and Douglas concerning two possible school setups were presented at the first meeting.

Plan I calls for the building and operation of a centrally located high school using the school buildings at Burr, Unadilla and Douglas as elementary schools.

The alternate plan, Plan II, calls for the building of a centrally located school that would accommodate both elementary and high school students.

Estimated cost under Plan I was given as $40,000, with an estimated total mill levy of 25 mills. Total estimated operating expense would be $28,900.

Plan II would cost $500,000, with $104,900 for operating expense and result in a 21.5 mill levy.

Hooper Lutheran Church Dedicated

HOOPER, Neb. — Dedication services were held at St. John's Lutheran Church which was recently moved from five miles west of Hooper into town.

Speakers at the dedication were the Rev. Alfred Bergt of Schuyler and Dr. Lawrence Acker of Omaha, former International Lutheran Hour speaker.

In addition to moving the church, a new basement was built, and the altar and front entrance of the church were enlarged. The entire interior of the church was also redecorated.

The Rev. Arnold H. Gebhardt is pastor of the church.

NWU Asks Education Emphasis

At Nebraska Methodist Meet

FREMONT, Neb. (AP) — The Nebraska Methodist Conference Wednesday was called upon by Nebraska Wesleyan University to put in motion plans to implement the quadrennial emphasis on education, provided the program is adopted by the general conference.

The church committee on higher education now is studying the proposal.

Wesleyan also reported that through increased individual giving and through gifts from the conference benevolence funds it hopes to raise salaries of its faculty again. "While salaries will still be too low, some encouraging progress is being made in the direction of faculty salary stabilization," the report said.

The Wesleyan report was one of those prepared for the annual conference at its first business session Wednesday.

Appointments Sunday

The conference opened Tuesday and will last through Sunday when the conference appointments will be made.

The Wesleyan report prepared by Chancellor A. Leland Forest said the church-sponsored institution also is surveying its projected building needs and planning the building in preliminary form as part of a long-range development program.

The Board of Hospitals and Homes special committee recommended as a general policy that each home for the aged eventually be constructed to house 100 persons for reasons of economy.

This board also recommended that the conference purchase Memorial Homes, Inc., of Holdrege, by assuming the present bonded indebtedness of $90,000, add 48 rooms to it, agree to operate it for at least 15 years, and that after commitments to present occupants are met, it become primarily a Methodist home.

Bryan Hospital

The board also recommended that the Trustees of Bryan Memorial Hospital in Lincoln, withhold development plans until their plans can be related to the proposed Lincoln Community Hospital. Similarly the board recommended deferring major construction at Crowell Memorial Home in Blair, until the property title can be cleared and developments in Lincoln and Holdrege are stabilized. The Hospital trustees last week voted to ask the conference to affiliate with the proposed new hospital in Lincoln.

One Million Needed

B. O. Lytle, superintendent of the Nebraska Methodist Hospital at Omaha reported that this institution needs a million dollars.

"Last fall out of 125 applications for nurses training we could accept only 50 because of the lack of room," the report said.

Max C. Coppom, administrator of the West Nebraska Methodist Hospital at Scottsbluff, said the trustees of his institution had decided to make no further major improvements to the present structure but hopes to construct a new building within five years.

Chemical-Powered Bomber Is Studied

... AF Seeks Funds For Plane

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Air Force disclosed Wednesday it is giving "high priority" to development of a chemical-powered bomber.

Assistant Air Force secretary Lyle S. Garlock made the disclosure in a brief mention of the bomber in testimony before the Senate Military Appropriations subcommittee.

Urging the subcommitte to approve 611 million dollars for Air Force research and development, Garlock said:

"The (money) program continues our vital research and development effort on such high priority items as the ballistics missiles, nuclear powered-bomber, chemical-powered bomber, high-powered long range radar, electronic warning and control and similar projects."

Committeemen did not question him about the bomber but a member of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee expressed surprise at the disclosure.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash)), told a reporter: "This to my knowledge has never been mentioned publicy before. It has been highly classified."

Jackson said he knew of the project because of secret testimony given before the Senate-House subcommittee on atomic weapons which he heads. Jackson also is a member of the Armed Services Committee.

The senator refused to answer a single question about the chemical-fuel bomber project. He said it was much too secret for him to discuss.

Borrowed

Garlock assured the Appropriations subcommittee that work on the vital intercontinental ballistics and guided missiles will "not be held up" for lack of money. He said that if more funds are needed than the Air Force is asking, sums will be borrowed from other projects.

Gen. Earle E Partridge, the nation's air defense commander, has urged top speed on both an ICB missile and a defense against it

Sen. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt), a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said in an interview that he believes this country is further ahead on development of such a defense than the country realizes. The missile could span the Atlantic in 30 minutes and Pentagon witnesses say the Soviets are building such a weapon.

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP) — The Sidney School Board has adopted a record budget of $511,050, an increase of about $15,000 over the previous year. Based on an estimated school district valuation of 13 million dollars the school levy next fall is expected to be around 37½ mills, compared to 36.31 for the previous year. Committeemen did not question him about the bomber but a member of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee expressed surprise at the disclosure.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash)), told a reporter: "This to my knowledge has never been mentioned publicy before. It has been highly classified."

Jackson said he knew of the project because of secret testimony given before the Senate-House subcommittee on atomic weapons which he heads. Jackson also is a member of the Armed Services Committee.

The senator refused to answer a single question about the chemical-fuel bomber project. He said it was much too secret for him to discuss.

Borrowed

Garlock assured the Appropriations subcommittee that work on the vital intercontinental ballistics and guided missiles will "not be held up" for lack of money. He said that if more funds are needed than the Air Force is asking, sums will be borrowed from other projects.

Gen. Earle E. Partridge, the nation's air defense commander, has urged top speed on both an ICB missile and a defense against it.

Sen. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt), a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said in an interview that he believes this country is further ahead on development of such a defense than the country realizes. The missile could span the Atlantic in 30 minutes and Pentagon witnesses say the Soviets are building such a weapon.

Stassen Is Optimistic On East-West Future

. . . Cites Ike Doctrine For Peace

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harold E. Stassen Wednesday sounded a note of cautious optimism regarding future East-West relations and attributed his forecast in part to an "H-bomb age Eisenhower doctrine for peace and progress."

Special assistant to the President for disarmament problems spoke to some 10,000 delegates at the 47th annual Rotary International Convention.

He mentioned the Kremlin invitation to Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Nathan F. Twining as part of what he said may be a "growing trend" toward better U.S.-Russian relations. Twining will attend with presidential approval a Soviet Air Force Day show in Moscow June 24.

He said the invitation "should neither be exaggerated nor underestimated," but, he added, it was an act of "mutual openness which could not have occurred as recently as one year ago before the summit conference at Geneva."

Peace Direction

Then he listed the instances in which, he said, Eisenhower-sponsored or encouraged moves were made in the direction of world peace and prosperity.

"It is my view," he said, "that there is gradually developing out of the President's initiative in this H-bomb age, an Eisenhower doctrine that may be as significant for peace and progress in the world in the next half century as the Monroe Doctrine has been to this Western Hemisphere in the past century."

He referred to Eisenhower's address at Baylor University last month in which the President urged the nation's universities and private foundations to help establish technical and cultural centers in the needy nations of the world.

He also mentioned recent progress made in Eisenhower's 1953 atoms for peace proposal.

'Promising'

"In less than three years after the President broke the chains of doubt and inertia," he said, "the dream of atoms-for-peace has been transformed into a tangible, promising reality."

He said it was at the recent London disarmament conference, at which he represented the President, that "for the first time notable progress was evident in devising a practical system for ground inspection."

He conceded that the Soviet position would be welcomed without reservation had they been willing to accept aerial reconnaissance as well, a proposal made to the Geneva conference by Eisenhower.

The Rotary convention ends its five day meeting Thursday with regional elections and passage of resolutions.

274 At 4-H Met Despite Gloomy Skies

Threatening skies Wednesday failed to dampen the enthusiasm of 274 boys and girls attending the 40th Annual State 4-H Club Week at the University of Nebraska.

A banquet at the Student Union in the evening highlighted a day's activities which included a tour of the College of Agriculture, discussion groups and an inspection of University High School.

In the afternoon Dr. Kenneth Cannon, associate professor of family relations and child development, spoke on "You and Your 4-H Friends."

The Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored the dinner Wednesday night. Jaycee Bruce Berquist was master of ceremonies.

Gene Stauber, University of Nebraska freshman football coach, addressed the banquet on, "Values Derived Through Democracy in Sports."

Nancy Norman, who was Miss Iowa of 1952, led group singing and offered a solo, accompanied by Nancy Carmody, runner-up for the Miss Lincoln title this year.

An archery exhibition was presented by the Prairie Bowmen.

Former Coed Is Bride

MRS. NELSON LEROY EBERLE

The chancel of the First Congregational Church at Wahoo was lighted by white candles burning in floor candelabra and appointed with spreading arrangements of white gladioli for the marriage of Miss Barbara Ellen Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer G. Johnson, to Nelson LeRoy Eberle, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Eberle, all of Wahoo, on Tuesday evening, June 5. The Rev. Walter C. Rundin, assisted by the Rev. Elbert J. Nickerson, read the lines of the 8 o'clock service, and the wedding music was played by Dr. Charles W. Tritt of Crete, organist. Dr. Tritt also accompanied Monty McMahon of Lincoln, the vocal soloist.

Mrs. E. Gerald Erickson of Wahoo, as her sister's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Jane Langenberg of Walthill and Miss Louise Henke of DeWitt, were frocked identically in mist blue organdy. The Empire bodices were accented by wide sashes of Wedgewood blue taffeta caught into draped bows at the back, and the circular skirts flared into danseuse length. They wore cloche brims of braided tulle, and carried pinnacle bouquets of white and blue Esther Reed daisies. Attending their aunt as flower girls were Miss Lucinda Johnson and Miss Lauri Johnson, and the ring bearer was John Scott Eberle of Omaha, nephew of the bridegroom.

Serving his brother as best man was John W. Eberle of Omaha, and the ushers were Burton Johnson and Claire Miller of Wahoo, Charles Burnett of Indianola, Ia., and William Pendgraft of Oakland, Ia.

The bride chose drifts of white tulle over silk taffeta for her wedding gown. The shoulder-wide decolletage of Chantilly lace was traced with iridescent sequins and tiny pearls, and the brief sleeves were completed by fitted mitts of the lace. Below the elongated bodice, the lace-trimmed skirt of tulle widened into extreme fullness and ended in a train, and her illusion veil was held to the head by a heart-shaped coronet of jeweled tulle. She carried a modern arrangement of white orchids and stephanotis.

A former student at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Phi sorority, the bride is a June graduate of Doane College and a member of Phi Sigma Tau. Mr. Eberle attended Scottsbluff Junior College and is a graduate of Simpson College, Indianola, Ia. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Ellen Wetenkamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wetenkamp, to William H. Minchow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Minchow of Waverly, took place at an 8 o'clock ceremony on Wednesday evening, June 6, at the Grace Lutheran Church in Walton. The Rev. Wearing alike ballerina-length frocks in a soft blue tone the attendants were Miss Marjorie Wetenkamp, who was her sister's maid of honor; Miss Irma Essink of Panama, and Mrs. Gayle Petersen of Harlan, Ia., the bridesmaids. Each carried a nosegay of blue and white blossoms. The Misses Norma Jean and Linda Bird lighted the candles, and the flower girl was Teresa Axberg.

Jerry Minchow served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Robert Leslie of Malcolm, and Marvin Deal of Lincoln.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The long-sleeved bodice of lace was designed with a heart-shaped yoke of illusion framed at the throat with a soft collar of lace. The lace was repeated in a brief peplum which flared, hip-length, over the bouffant ballerina skirt of tulle. Her waist-length veil of tulle was held to the head with a plateau of lace which was edged with satin and dotted with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses.

Adlai Wins 6 Votes In N.Y.

. . . Harriman Camp Not Dismayed

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Six supporters of Adlai Stevenson took places Wednesday in a New York delegation to the Democratic National Convention overwhelmingly favoring Gov. Averell Harriman.

But the pro-Harriman camp still expressed belief the 98-vote delegation would be solid by convention time.

Four pro-Stevenson candidates won their seats in the count of votes. The Suffolk County Democratic leader, Adrian Mason, conceded the election of two others.

Gov. Harriman was assured, however, that almost all the rest of the delegation would be in his corner when he makes the bid for the presidential nomination at the Chicago convention.

Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization, scored a major victory when voters denied the party's nomination to Rep. James G. Donovan, who had been elected since 1950 with both Democratic and Republican support. Donovan was unopposed for the 1956 GOP nomination.

10 Seats Sought

Stevenson supporters sought 10 delegate seats in the primary balloting.

Harriman appeared unperturbed, at least publicly. He said in a statement that the primary results left him "highly gratified by the unity of the Democratic party" in New York State.

Two pro-Stevenson candidates ran without opposition—in Manhattan and in nearby Westchester County. The other eight opposed Harriman sympathizers, one in Brooklyn, four on Long Island, and three in Rochester.

The Brooklyn and Rochester candidates were defeated.

An unopposed Republican slate of presidential convention delegates coasted to victory. The New York GOP is prepared to cast its 96 votes for re-nomination of President Eisenhower, althought it is not officially pledged to him.

Demos Encouraged

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (AP) — Ken Holum, Groton dirt farmer who won the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination in South Dakota's primary, read encouraging signs in the vote. Republicans saw it otherwise.

"Obviously thousands of traditional Republican voters stayed away from the polls to protest the Republican failures and broken promises to agriculture," Holum said. "In November they will express themselves by voting the Democratic ticket."

Republican State Chairman Denny Cosgrove said the primary "did not show signs of a farm revolt which Democrats have been trying to create. The light vote shows the people are confident the present administration is working toward a real solution of the farm problem."

Holum, who will oppose Sen. Case (R-SD) in the general election, defeated Merton B. Tice, a municipal judge and past national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Without contests, the vote for presidential slates this year was far below 1952. Returns from 1,708 of 1,987 precincts gave the slate for President Eisenhower 53,331 and the slate for Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) 24,216. The state had 14 Republican and 8 Democratic votes at the national conventions.

Tom Eastman Jr. will be the Democratic candidate to oppose Rep. Berry (R-SD) in his fourth term bid this fall.

16 For Estes In Montana

HELENA, Mont. (INS)—Sen. Kefauver apparently picked up 16 more delegates Wednesday to the Democratic convention as a result of Tuesday's primary election in Montana.

The Tennessee Democrat far outdistanced write-in candidates who were not listed on the ballot.

Favorite son candidate S. C. Arnold, who pledged his support to President Eisenhower on the first ballot, easily won on the GOP side of the primary.

With a little more than half of the precincts reported, Kefauver had garnered 41,050 votes. Write-in ballots for Adlai Stevenson totaled only 512. Averall Harriman, Lyndon Johnson, Stuart Symington and Frank Lausche each received only a smattering of votes.

Republican voters gave Arnold 17,425 votes, while only 2,824 favored the America First candidate Lar Daly.

The heavy Democratic turnout was believed caused by several stiff fights for state offices.

Bingham Is Dead At 80

. . . Former Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hiram Bingham, former Republican senator from Connecticut and chairman of the Truman administration's Loyalty Review Board, died Wednesday at the age of 80 after a long illness.

The death of the onetime political figure who also was a scholar, explorer, author, aviator and businessman, was attributed to a respiratory ailment. He died at Doctors Hospital, where he had been a patient for six weeks.

Bingham served in the Senate for nine years during the administrations of Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover.

NE Rotarians Hear Forecaster; Storm Rages Over City

Wednesday night's storm just added to the timeliness of the meeting of the Northeast Rotary Club. Speaker of the evening was Robert Beebe, research forecaster on severe local storms for the Kansas City Weather Bureau.

Beebe, a former Lincolnite and Nebraska Wesleyan graduate, was about half through his talk when the storm broke. Lights stayed on at Cotner Terrace, however, and the meeting continued.

In addition to his talk, Beebe showed photos of severe storms, including shots of the tornado last year at Scottsbluff of which complete pictures were obtained.

Boys Injured In Hit-Run Accident

Two thirteen-year-old boys were treated for leg bruises and then released from St. Elizabeth's Hospital Wednesday night following a hit-run accident.

David Devro of 3006 So. 11th was riding his bicycle west on Van Dorn at 10th and Raymond Hensley of 3140 So. 11th was pushing him when, they said, a car, believed to be a 1951 light-colored Buick, was in collision with them. The car did not stop.

Reds Agree To Pull Out Truce Men—Temporarily

PANMUNJOM (Thursday)—(INS)—Communist negotiators told the United Nations Command today they will agree to the U N notice to withdraw Communist Czech and Polish truce inspectors from North and South Korea but "only on a temporary basis."

The Reds demanded that the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission truce teams should maintain the right of functioning as they have been doing 'as an inseparable instrument' of the machinery of the armistice.

They told the U. N. Command at a joint meeting of the Military Armistice Commission that the Czechs and Poles had agreed to comply with last Thursday's U N notice because of 'pressure' from the U N side.

They did not indicate on what day the Communists members of the four nation truce "watchdog" body would withdraw.

'Well Grounded'

As they did last Monday, the Communists proposed that if either side had "well-grounded charges" against the other, then the N.N.S.C. should have the right to dispatch and station inspection teams to ports of entry on either side.

Under the U N plan the four nation commission is to be withdrawn into the demilitarized zone until such time as the Communists prove their intention to live up to the armistice agreement particularly concerning the introduction of illegal arms into North Korea.

The original U N order to the Reds called for withdrawal from South Korea only and senior U N command delegate May Gen Robfied' at the agreement to pull fed' 'at the agreement to pull truce teams out of both North and South Korea.

Gard told the Communists that the request to withdraw from areas north and south of the demilitarized zone should be granted.

Both the Communist and U N high commands must agree to the proposal before it can be put into effect.

Gard made it clear he did not like the Communist condition that 'well-grounded charges of (truce) violations" should bring the truce teams back.

He termed it a 'repetition" of the Communist condition put forward last Monday and said the U N. Command position has not changed. That is, the withdrawal must be made with no conditions attached.

Earlier U N sources at the Military Armistice Commission said the Czechs and Poles had agreed June 3 to withdraw to the demilitarized zone by Sunday. There was no official confirmation of this information.

Before today's meeting, top U.N. command officers emphasized that "we aren't backing down one bit" and said that if the Poles and Czech truce inspectors do not voluntarily leave South Korea they lay themselves open to physical eviction.

Reds Agree To Pull Out Truce Men—Temporarily

PANMUNJOM (Thursday)—(INS)—Communist negotiators told the United Nations Command today they will agree to the U. N. notice to withdraw Communist Czech and Polish truce inspectors from North and South Korea, but "only on a temporary basis."

The Reds demanded that the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission truce teams should maintain the right of functioning as they have been doing "as an inseparable instrument" of the machinery of the armistice.

They told the U. N. Command at a joint meeting of the Military Armistice Commission that the Czechs and Poles had agreed to comply with last Thursday's U. N. notice because of "pressure" from the U. N. side.

They did not indicate on what day the Communists members of the four-nation truce "watchdog" body would withdraw.

'Well Grounded'

As they did last Monday, the Communists proposed that if either side had "well-grounded charges" against the other, then the N. N. S. C. should have the right to dispatch and station inspection teams to ports of entry on either side.

Under the U. N. plan, the four-nation commission is to be withdrawn into the demilitarized zone until such time as the Communists prove their intention to live up to the armistice agreement, particularly concerning the introduction of illegal arms into North Korea.

The original U.N. order to the Reds called for withdrawal from South Korea only and senior U.N. command delegate Maj. Gen. Robfied" at the agreement to pull fied' 'at the agreement to pull truce teams out of both North and South Korea.

Gard told the Communists that the request to withdraw from areas north and south of the demilitarized zone should be granted.

Both the Communist and U.N. high commands must agree to the proposal before it can be put into effect.

Gard made it clear he did not like the Communist condition that "well-grounded charges of (truce) violations" should bring the truce teams back. . .

He termed it a "repetition" of the Communist condition put forward last Monday and said the U.N. Command position has not changed. That is, the withdrawal must be made with no conditions attached.

Earlier U.N. sources at the Military Armistice Commission said the Czechs and Poles had agreed June 3 to withdraw to the demilitarized zone by Sunday. There was no official confirmation of this information.

Before today's meeting, top U.N. command officers emphasized that "we aren't backing down one bit" and said that if the Poles and Czech truce inspectors do not voluntarily leave South Korea they lay themselves open to physical eviction.

Double Senate Probe Of N.Y. Waterfront Planned

WASHINGTON (INS) — A two-pronged Senate probe of crime and Communists on the New York docks was announced Wednesday and the White House said President Eisenhower has offered any necessary aid in probing waterfront racketeering.

Riesel

Initial hearings are expected to be launched June 19 by the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee which is handling the subversive phase of the Senate investigation.

The Senate Investigations Subcommittee is checking into racketeering on the waterfront, a source said, in conjunction with a search for underworld influence in the garment industry.

Labor Columnist Victor Riesel who was blinded by an unidentified acid-thrower after he made a broadcast attacking union racketeers, was listed as the first witness June 19.

White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower discussed union racketeering with AFL-CIO Chief George Meany last Monday and said if there was any assistance any federal agency could give in such a probe, it is available.

The discussion came up when the two attended dedication ceremonies for the new AFL-CIO headquarters in Washington.

No New Probe

Hagerty said, however, that the federal government is not going to conduct any new investigation of union racketeering.

Meany, who previously declined to reveal his conversation with the President, described the White House account as entirely accurate.

He told a news conference in response to questions that the President had told him that he was prepared to give any assistance in the matter of a racketeering investigation that he could.

The labor leader reminded reporters that "this is a matter in which I am very much interested." He refused, however, to say what he had said to the President in reply.

Asked whether he contemplated a later meeting with the President on the matter, Meany said he had not given this any thought.

Internal Security subcommittee Counsel Robert Morris said his group's inquiry had been planned "for some time" and was not a direct outgrowth of Riesel's demand for a Congressional inquiry.

Riesel himself reported Sunday that the two Senate investigations were planned. Morris gave the first official confirmation of it to newsmen Wednesday.

Morris told an interviewer that Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss) had arranged to "work in concert" with Investigations Subcommittee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark), on the probe.

The counsel said: "There are certain areas we are going to turn over to them."

However, a McClellan subcommittee source told a newsman that group already has begun questioning witnesses about hoodlum infiltration of waterfront installations dealing with the federal government.

Track Tax Started It All

Catching many glances regardless of the sign she wears, Sue LaCroix parades on Canal Street in New Orleans in protest to an increase in taxes proposed by Gov. Earl K. Long. Natty Archie Claims Heavyweight Crown

By NATE POLOWETZKY

LONDON (AP)—Light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore, his mustache and goattee freshly trimmed, claimed the vacant heavyweight throne again Wednesday, then donned a top hat and swallow-tail morning coat and mixed it up with the swells at the Epsom Derby.

The way 39-year old Archie sees it, he is "entitled to the heavyweight championship because Rocky Marciano nominated me as his logical successor."

Manager Charley Johnston, naturally, is in full agreement with his ancient fighter's views that Archie is the rightful heir to the throne because he knocked down Marciano before he himself was knocked out in the ninth round last September.

Johnston said, too, that Archie might make a "heavyweight title defense" against towering James J. Parker of Toronto in Canada next month instead of meeting the winner of Friday night's New York Floyd Patterson -Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson 12-rounder in September.

"And I mean heavyweight championship," said Johnston, "not light - heavyweight championship. Archie's the heavyweight champ now that Marciano is gone."

Parker is not listed among the contenders by either the American National Boxing Assn. or by Ring Magazine.

Succeed Rocky

There doesn't seem to be much doubt that a Moore vs. Patterson-Jackson winner would get universal recognition as world champion to succeed the retired Marciano.

The NBA has decreed that the winner of this two-fight series would have to fight the heavyweight then rated as No. 1 by the NBA. It didn't say what would happen if the No. 1 happens to be one of the three, which seems almost a certainty.

Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, has indicated that the September victor would be champion but he doesn't want to go on record, at the moment.

J. Onslow Fane, head of the British boxing board and president of the European Boxing Union and the world boxing championship committee, already has informed Helfand that these groups will recognize the winner of the American tournament as champion.

In New York, Harry Markson of the International Boxing Club, which is promoting the Jackson-Patterson 12-rounder at Madison Square Garden, said, "Moore has drawn a bye in the final round. Anyone wanting the title must defeat him."

Johnston said he had cancelled plans for Archie to fight in Europe following his 10th-round technical knockout of Trinidad's Yolande Pompey in a light-heavyweight title defense Tuesday night.

League-Leading Chiefs Return

Brooks Win, Edge Near First Division

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers, behind the five-hit mound work of Don Newcombe, scored their third straight victory over the fourth-place Milwaukee Braves Wednesday night, 5-2, and moved to within 8 percentage points of the first division.

Newcombe's fine performance gave him his eighth triumph in 12 decisions and marked the third straight night that Dodger hurlers held the Braves batters to meager pickings. Sal Maglie beat Milwaukee Monday on three hits and Roger Craig did it Tuesday allowing only two. Newcombe struck out six and from the fourth inning until he gave up his only walk to pinch-hitter Chuck Tanner in the eighth, retired 11 Braves in order.

The victory lifted the fifth-place Dodgers to a .548 percentage mark. The Braves are .556.

The Dodgers saddled Gene Conley with his second loss against one victory as they pounded him for all nine of their hits and all five runs. Conley fanned five and walked two before he was driven out in the two-run Dodger eighth.

The Dodgers scored first on Duke Snider's 10th homer of the year in the first inning. The Braves took the lead in their share of the first frame on Henry Aaron's two-run blast into the left field stands. It was his seventh of the year and scored Eddie Mathews who had reached first on Gil Hodges' error.

Junior Gilliam's single in the third with two men on gave the Dodgers their second run. They scored another in the fifth when Conley forced in a run by walking Randy Jackson with the bases loaded.

In the eighth, Jackson opened with a double and Hodges singled sending him home. Carl Furillo's single scored Hodges.

7th-Inning Blast Aids Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs remained only 4 percentage points out of first place in the National League Wednesday night as Frank Robinson and Gus Bell erupted with a seventh-inning home run attack that led to a 7-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phils.

The Redleg outburst in the seventh came with such a lack of warning that all four runs were in before the Phils could get Bob Miller into the game as relief for starter Stu Miller.

Starting with the last man up in the second inning Stu Miller had retired 15 Redlegs in order. Then with two out in the seventh, pinch-hitter Bob Thurman singled and Johnny Temple walked. Robinson belted his 12th home run over the center field fence and Bell followed with his 12th.

Stu Miller's only other trouble had come in the first when Temple walked, stole second and then scored on Wally Post's double.

A pair of runs in the eighth only served to widen the Redleg margin. They came on a walk to Post, Ed Bailey's single and Roy McMillan's double.

Lawrence yielded a pair of runs to the Phils in the first on Frankie Baumholtz' single and a home run by Stan Lopata.

Lincoln Opens 11-Day Home Stand Against Dukes Tonight; Bruins Win

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Lincoln's league-leading Chiefs, fresh from a series victory at Des Moines, open a 11-day home stand at Sherman Field Thursday night, with the Albuquerque Dukes being the first guests.

Bill Nordberg, who has lost one game—in relief—since he rejoined the Chiefs, will make his first 1956 Sherman Field start against the Dukes tonight. Reggie Lee (2-3) will chuck for the visitors.

The long home stand will feature several top "special events" in addition to the hot and heavy Western League action.

Friday night will be National Guard Night and the Press-Radio and TV game is scheduled for Monday night.

Albuquerque, in seventh place, will make its first appearance of the year here Thursday and the Dukes will also furnish the opposition on Friday and Saturday.

Fourth-place Pueblo will move in for a four-day stand on Sunday and the Colorado Springs Sky Sox, currently the No. 5 team, are slated for the final four days.

Lincoln lost 10-7 Wednesday night—despite two homers by Bill Jackson and one by Dick Stuart—but the Chiefs swept the series at Des Moines, three games to one. Stuart now has 21 roundtrippers and Jackson 11.

Jackson's Slugging Spree Not Enough, Chiefs Lose 10-7

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—Bill Jackson batted in six runs with two homers and a double but it was not enough to keep Lincoln from suffering a 10-7 defeat at the hands of Des Moines Wednesday night.

Dick Stuart also homered for the league-leading Chiefs. It was his 21st, keeping him at the league's top with Al Weygandt of Topeka.

The Bruins jumped off to an 8-2 lead in the first three innings, then were held in check by Andy Olsen until manager Lou Klein's third double helped Des Moines add two runs in the eighth.

Bob McKee also pounded three hits for the Bruins, two of them doubles, and Ernie Johnson and Eddie Haas had two hits apeice.

Jackson doubled to knock in two runs in the third inning, homered after a single by Al Stringer in the fifth and socked another over the leftfield fence following a walk to Sam Miley in the ninth.

Jackson's second homer was off Dwight Stoddard, who relieved Tom Guderian with one out and runners on first and third in the eighth. A sharp double play ended that threat, which began with Stuart's 360-foot homer.

The game was delayed by rain for 17 minutes in the second inning.

Savage Falls To Boyd And Hip Injury

CHICAGO (AP) — Bobby Boyd of Chicago, No. 2 middleweight contender, rallied for a 10th round technical knockout of game Milo Savage of Salt Lake City in a televised bout at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

Savage had carried the fight to his rangier opponent until the final two rounds when his left hip, injured when he slipped out of the ring in the fourth round, gave way.

Savage slipped once in the ninth round and then went down again for an official knockdown. Then, with the 10th and final round only 27 seconds old, Boyd landed a sharp right to the head and Savage buckled to the canvas.

He tried to get up, but his left leg seemed to collapse and Referee Joey White signalled the end.

Local Baseball Fans Can't Agree On NL Leftfield Spot

Baseball fans in this area are pretty well agreed when it comes to selecting members of the 1956 All Star teams.

A check of the early returns shows that only one hot contest has developed — left field in the National League.

As of the moment, Bobby Thomson of Milwaukee has a two-vote edge vote over Frank Thomas of Pittsburgh and a total of 10 players have received votes.

The next closest battles are for the centerfield job on the National League club and the American League third base post. Brooklyn's Duke Snider has a six-vote margin over Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn for the outfield position, the same margin that George Kell of Baltimore has over Ray Boone of Detroit in the AL third-sacker race.

All votes received are forwarded to Commissioner Ford Frick's office and will be tabulated with the thousands of votes from all over the country. Stories on the over-all races will be released by the commissioner at later dates.

The lineups after early voting with the majority of leaders holding commanding leads, are:

Indians Bunch Hits To Beat Orioles 5-1

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Cleveland Indians bunched five of their seven hits to score all their runs in two innings Wednesday night and defeat the Baltimore Orioles 5-1. Art Houtteman, starting only the second time for Cleveland this season, got credit for his first victory although Ray Narleski relieved him in the sixth inning.

The Orioles scaratched only six hits off Houtteman until two were out in the sixth inning, although he had pitched only 13 innings previously this season.

Houtteman complained of a sore shoulder in the sixth with two men on base and two strikes on Gus Triandos. Narleski blazed the third strike passed Triandos and proceeded to fan four more Orioles to finish the game with only one Oriole able to reach first base on him.

The Indians scored two runs on a walk and three singles in the fourth inning. Oriole shortstop Willie Miranda stopped two of the singles behind second and third bases and the third went through the pitcher's box on the ground.

Nationals Hit Chicago, 12-7

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington mauled four Chicago White Sox pitchers for 15 hits, including home runs by Whitey Herzog and Carlos Paula, en route to a 12-7 victory Wednesday night.

Minnie Minoso, White Sox outfielder, left the game in the second inning after being struck on the left elbow by a Wiesler pitch. He was taken to Georgetown Hospital for a precautionary X-ray but the injury was believed to be nothing more than a bruise.

Natty Archie Claims Heavyweight Crown

By NATE POLOWETZKY

LONDON (AP)—Light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore, his mustache and goattee freshly trimmed, claimed the vacant heavyweight throne again Wednesday, then donned a top hat and swallow-tail morning coat and mixed it up with the swells at the Epsom Derby.

The way 39-year old Archie sees it, he is "entitled to the heavyweight championship because Rocky Marciano nominated me as his logical successor."

Manager Charley Johnston, naturally, is in full agreement with his ancient fighter's views that Archie is the rightful heir to the throne because he knocked down Marciano before he himself was knocked out in the ninth round last September.

Johnston said, too, that Archie might make a "heavyweight title defense" against towering James J. Parker of Toronto in Canada next month instead of meeting the winner of Friday night's New York Floyd Patterson-Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson 12-rounder in September.

"And I mean heavyweight championship," said Johnston, "not light - heavyweight championship. Archie's the heavyweight champ now that Marciano is gone."

Parker is not listed among the contenders by either the American National Boxing Assn. or by Ring Magazine.

Johnston is a master maneuverer and most boxing men here were of the opinion that the manager was getting in position to demand a fatter percentage of the gate receipts for a showdown fight with the Jackson-Patterson winner.

Succeed Rocky

There doesn't seem to be much doubt that a Moore vs. Patterson-Jackson winner would get universal recognition as world champion to succeed the retired Marciano.

The NBA has decreed that the winner of this two-fight series would have to fight the heavyweight then rated as No. 1 by the NBA. It didn't say what would happen if the No. 1 happens to be one of the three, which seems almost a certainty.

Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, has indicated that the September victor would be champion but he doesn't want to go on record, at the moment.

J. Onslow Fane, head of the British boxing board and president of the European Boxing Union and the world boxing championship committee, already has informed Helfand that these groups will recognize the winner of the American tournament as champion.

In New York, Harry Markson of the International Boxing Club, which is promoting the Jackson-Patterson 12-rounder at Madison Square Garden, said, "Moore has drawn a bye in the final round. Anyone wanting the title must defeat him."

Johnston said he had cancelled plans for Archie to fight in Europe following his 10th-round technical knockout of Trinidad's Yolande Pompey in a light-heavyweight title defense Tuesday night.

League-Leading Chiefs Return

Brooks Win, Edge Near First Division

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers, behind the five-hit mound work of Don Newcombe, scored their third straight victory over the fourth-place Milwaukee Braves Wednesday night, 5-2, and moved to within 8 percentage points of the first division.

Newcombe's fine performance gave him his eighth triumph in 12 decisions and marked the third straight night that Dodger hurlers held the Braves batters to meager pickings. Sal Maglie beat Milwaukee Monday on three hits and Roger Craig did it Tuesday allowing only two. Newcombe struck out six and from the fourth inning until he gave up his only walk to pinch-hitter Chuck Tanner in the eighth, retired 11 Braves in order.

The victory lifted the fifth-place Dodgers to a .548 percentage mark. The Braves are .556.

The Dodgers saddled Gene Conley with his second loss against one victory as they pounded him for all nine of their hits and all five runs. Conley fanned five and walked two before he was driven out in the two-run Dodger eighth.

The Dodgers scored first on Duke Snider's 10th homer of the year in the first inning. The Braves took the lead in their share of the first frame on Henry Aaron's two-run blast into the left field stands. It was his seventh of the year and scored Eddie Mathews who had reached first on Gil Hodges' error.

Junior Gilliam's single in the third with two men on gave the Dodgers their second run. They scored another in the fifth when Conley forced in a run by walking Randy Jackson with the bases loaded.

In the eighth, Jackson opened with a double and Hodges singled sending him home. Carl Furillo's single scored Hodges.

7th-Inning Blast Aids Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs remained only 4 percentage points out of first place in the National League Wednesday night as Frank Robinson and Gus Bell erupted with a seventh-inning home run attack that led to a 7-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phils.

The Redleg outburst in the seventh came with such a lack of warning that all four runs were in before the Phils could get Bob Miller into the game as relief for starter Stu Miller.

Starting with the last man up in the second inning Stu Miller had retired 15 Redlegs in order. Then with two out in the seventh, pinch-hitter Bob Thurman singled and Johnny Temple walked. Robinson belted his 12th home run over the center field fence and Bell followed with his 12th.

Stu Miller's only other trouble had come in the first when Temple walked, stole second and then scored on Wally Post's double.

A pair of runs in the eighth only served to widen the Redleg margin. They came on a walk to Post, Ed Bailey's single and Roy McMillan's double.

Lawrence yielded a pair of runs to the Phils in the first on Frankie Baumholtz' single and a home run by Stan Lopata.

Lincoln Opens 11-Day Home Stand Against Dukes Tonight; Bruins Win

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Lincoln's league-leading Chiefs, fresh from a series victory at Des Moines, open a 11-day home stand at Sherman Field Thursday night, with the Albuquerque Dukes being the first guests.

Bill Nordberg, who has lost one game—in relief—since he rejoined the Chiefs, will make his first 1956 Sherman Field start against the Dukes tonight. Reggie Lee (2-3) will chuck for the visitors.

The long home stand will feature several top "special events" in addition to the hot and heavy Western League action.

Friday night will be National Guard Night and the Press-Radio and TV game is scheduled for Monday night.

Albuquerque, in seventh place, will make its first appearance of the year here Thursday and the Dukes will also furnish the opposition on Friday and Saturday.

Fourth-place Pueblo will move in for a four-day stand on Sunday and the Colorado Springs Sky Sox, currently the No. 5 team, are slated for the final four days.

Lincoln lost 10-7 Wednesday night—despite two homers by Bill Jackson and one by Dick Stuart—but the Chiefs swept the series at Des Moines, three games to one. Stuart now has 21 roundtrippers and Jackson 11.

Jackson's Slugging Spree Not Enough, Chiefs Lose 10-7

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—Bill Jackson batted in six runs with two homers and a double but it was not enough to keep Lincoln from suffering a 10-7 defeat at the hands of Des Moines Wednesday night.

Dick Stuart also homered for the league-leading Chiefs. It was his 21st, keeping him at the league's top with Al Weygandt of Topeka.

The Bruins jumped off to an 8-2 lead in the first three innings, then were held in check by Andy Olsen until manager Lou Klein's third double helped Des Moines add two runs in the eighth.

Bob McKee also pounded three hits for the Bruins, two of them doubles, and Ernie Johnson and Eddie Haas had two hits apeice.

Jackson doubled to knock in two runs in the third inning, homered after a single by Al Stringer in the fifth and socked another over the leftfield fence following a walk to Sam Miley in the ninth.

Jackson's second homer was off Dwight Stoddard, who relieved Tom Guderian with one out and runners on first and third in the eighth. A sharp double play ended that threat, which began with Stuart's 360-foot homer.

The game was delayed by rain for 17 minutes in the second inning.

Savage Falls To Boyd And Hip Injury

CHICAGO (AP) — Bobby Boyd of Chicago, No. 2 middleweight contender, rallied for a 10th round technical knockout of game Milo Savage of Salt Lake City in a televised bout at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

Savage had carried the fight to his rangier opponent until the final two rounds when his left hip, injured when he slipped out of the ring in the fourth round, gave way.

Savage slipped once in the ninth round and then went down again for an official knockdown. Then, with the 10th and final round only 27 seconds old, Boyd landed a sharp right to the head and Savage buckled to the canvas.

He tried to get up, but his left leg seemed to collapse and Referee Joey White signalled the end.

Local Baseball Fans Can't Agree On NL Leftfield Spot

Baseball fans in this area are pretty well agreed when it comes to selecting members of the 1956 All Star teams.

A check of the early returns shows that only one hot contest has developed — left field in the National League.

As of the moment, Bobby Thomson of Milwaukee has a two-vote edge vote over Frank Thomas of Pittsburgh and a total of 10 players have receved votes.

The next closest battles are for the centerfield job on the National League club and the American League third base post. Brooklyn's Duke Snider has a six-vote margin over Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn for the outfield position, the same margin that George Kell of Baltimore has over Ray Boone of Detroit in the AL third-sacker race.

All votes received are forwarded to Commissioner Ford Frick's office and will be tabulated with the thousands of votes from all over the country. Stories on the over-all races will be released by the commissioner at later dates.

The lineups after early voting with the majority of leaders holding commanding leads, are:

Indians Bunch Hits To Beat Orioles 5-1

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Cleveland Indians bunched five of their seven hits to score all their runs in two innings Wednesday night and defeat the Baltimore Orioles 5-1. Art Houtteman, starting only the second time for Cleveland this season, got credit for his first victory although Ray Narleski relieved him in the sixth inning.

The Orioles scaratched only six hits off Houtteman until two were out in the sixth inning, although he had pitched only 13 innings previously this season.

Houtteman complained of a sore shoulder in the sixth with two men on base and two strikes on Gus Triandos. Narleski blazed the third strike passed Triandos and proceeded to fan four more Orioles to finish the game with only one Oriole able to reach first base on him.

The Indians scored two runs on a walk and three singles in the fourth inning. Oriole shortstop Willie Miranda stopped two of the singles behind second and third bases and the third went through the pitcher's box on the ground.

Nationals Hit Chicago, 12-7

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington mauled four Chicago White Sox pitchers for 15 hits, including home runs by Whitey Herzog and Carlos Paula, en route to a 12-7 victory Wednesday night.

Minnie Minoso, White Sox outfielder, left the game in the second inning after being struck on the left elbow by a Wiesler pitch. He was taken to Georgetown Hospital for a precautionary X-ray but the injury was believed to be nothing more than a bruise.

Brandt Singles In 11th To Give Cards 3-2 Win

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Rookie Jackie Brandt's eleventh-inning double drove in the winning run Wednesday night as the St. Louis Cardinals, after rallying in the ninth to tie with two out, defeated the New York Giants, 3-2.

Brandt, who carried across the tying tally in the ninth as a pinch-runner for Stan Musial, knocked in the winning marker off Johnny Antonelli, New York's fourth pitcher, after a pinch single by Hank Sauer off loser Hoyt Wilhelm and a walk to Grady Hatton.

The Cardinals, finishing with only six hits to the Giants' nine, sent the contest into overtime at a time when righthander Ruben Gomez had held them to two hits and struck out nine. With two away in the ninth Musial doubled to left and Ken Boyer's single sent Brandt across the plate.

While Wilhelm absorbed his third defeat against no victories, 41-year-old Ellis Kinder, unbeaten in the National League, achieved his second triumph as the third St. Louis pitcher. He worked the final three frames after Jim Konstanty, making his debut with the Redbirds, hurled two scoreless innings.

The Giants scored their runs off starter Tom Poholsky. In the second inning Willie Mays walked, stole second and tallied on Don Mueller's first of three hits. Then in the sixth Foster Castleman, who had entered the lineup when Henry Thompson was beaned, walloped his fourth homer.

St. Louis, held to one scratch hit for six innings, finally counted in the seventh on a walk and Wally Moon's two-out double on which Mays' outfield throw struck Moon rounding second and caromed off, permitting Boyer to score an unearned run.

Thompson, wearing a plastic helmet, compulsory in the National League, was struck just above and behind the right ear in the fourth inning. He fell to the ground, and was carried off on a stretcher and taken to Jewish Hospital. Following study of wet X-rays, which were negative, Dr. I. C. Middleman, the Cardinals' team physician, said the New York third baseman appeared to have suffered a "severe" concussion. The doctor said he planned to keep the player in the hospital "a couple of days" for observation.

Yanks Snap Four-Game Loss String

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees Wednesday cracked their four-game losing streak, defeating the Kansas City Athletics 10-5 but Mickey Mantle, for the second straight day, failed to crack Lou Boudreau's exaggerated version of the "Ted Williams shift."

The Yankees, powered by home runs off the bats of Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron, mauled five Kansas City hurlers for 12 hits to give Bob Grim, their starter, his third triumph without a defeat. Tom LaSorda, a lefthander, started for the A's and was routed in the third as the Yankees soared to an 8-0 lead.

Mantle, got one hit—a first-inning single—in five times at bat. Only twice, however, did Manager Boudreau employ his new "rock-and-roll" shift on the Yankee slugger with practically everybody shifting to the right. They came in th sixth and eighth innings when Mantle was the first hitter. In each instance, a righthander was on the mound for Kansas City and the switch-hitting Mantle batted lefthanded.

Sioux City Rally Is Halted By Appeal Play; Hawks Win

SIOUX CITY, Ia. (AP) — An appeal play that produced the game-ending out cut short Sioux City's last ditch rally in the ninth Wednesday night as Topeka took an 8-5 victory.

Trailing by 8-3 entering the ninth, the Soos finally began to solve the offerings of Reliefer Stew Alton, who had put down a fourth-inning uprising that produced the three earlier runs.

Art Burnett lived on an error, then Ken Landenberger hammered a home run over the right field fence to start the ninth. A single by Rocky Brown, a hit batsman and a walk, sandwiched around a strikeout, filled the bases with one away and prompted Topeka Manager Buddy Bates to bring Tom Mulcahy to the mound.

Don Catchot flied deep to left and Brown apparently scored after the catch. However, Topeka tossed the ball to third and appealed to Umpire Max Stone who agreed with the Hawks that Brown had left the base before the catch and called Brown out.

1st Army Runner Has Fastest 800

COMPTON, Calif. (AP) — Tom Courtney, former Fordham star competing for the 1st Army, ran the fastest 800 meters in the nation this year in winning the event in the all-Army track and field championships Wednesday.

Courtney, pointing for a berth on the U. S. Olympic team, was timed in 1:47.5 as the two-day Army event ended. The first three winners in each event will compete in Los Angeles next week in the inter-service meet.

Long Hits 16th Homer To Spark 8-2 Buc Win

CHICAGO (AP) — A three-homer attack, including a two-run clout by Dale Long, his 16th, and a three-run blast by Frank Thomas, Wednesday swept the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates to an 8-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Roberto Clemente also slammed a bases-empty homer, his first of the season, as the amazing Pirates won their 25th game against 17 defeats to stay ahead in the hot National League race.

Righthander Ron Kline took his fifth decision against three defeats as he scattered six Cub hits. The loser was starter Paul Minner, now 1-5, who was followed by three reliefers—Vito Valentinetti, Sam Jones and Jim Davis. The Cub mound quartet was raked for 14 hits.

Long, whose RBI total was boosted to 43, pulled a muscle in his left leg after singling in the third and was replaced at first base by Bob Skinner. The injury was reported slight and the National loop homer leader is expected to play in Thursday's series finale against the Cubs. Long hit his homer in the first for a 2-0 Buc lead.

Outfielder Thomas made his first start as a third baseman and responded with two singles and his 11th homer in the fifth after Lee Walls walked and Skinner singled.

White Aids Bosox Win

BOSTON (AP) — Boston, powered by Sammy White's second two-run single of the game, landed on tiring Paul Foytack for three runs in eighth inning Wednesday and a 5-4 victory over Detroit. The loss snapped a seven-game Tiger winning streak.

Red Sox righthander Tom Brewer was credited with his eighth victory against a lone setback but needed relief from Ike Delock in the ninth when the Tigers scored twice and threatened to pull it out.

Brewer, outpitched by Foytack in the middle innings, held a 5-2 lead going into the ninth with a seven-hitter. After fanning Frank House, Tommy walked pinch-hitter Wayne Belardi and surrendered a single to pinch-hitter Charlie Maxwell. After Harvey Kuenn singled home the third Tiger run, Delock was waved in.

English Derby To French Lavandin

EPSOM, Eng. (INS)—Lavandin, French-owned three-year-old favorite, charged through the rain in a thrilling stretch run Wednesday to win the 177th English Derby in a photo finish.

Second by a neck was Montaval, only American-owned horse in the race, with an Irish entry, Roistar, third another two lengths back in the mile-and-a-half gallop over the hilly Epsom course.

Princess Margaret, wearing a pale lilac frock and a white silk coat, the Queen Mother and other members of the royal family braved the heavy rain to see the classic, which determined the distribution of millions of dollars in Irish Sweepstakes prize money.

Queen Elizabeth, whose colt, Atlas, ran out of the money, listened to a broadcast of the race aboard the yacht Britannia, on which she and Prince Philip are en route to Sweden for the Olympic equestrian games.

Lavandin was sent off a 7-to-1 favorite by the colorful crowd thronging the betting enclosures. Montaval, also a French-bred horse purchased only a few days ago by retired American publisher Ralph B. Strassburger of Norristown, Pa., was a 40-to-1 long shot.

250 To Vie In State Meet

DONIPHAN, Neb. (AP)—Some 250 shooters are expected here for the 78th annual meeting and tournament of the Nebraska State Sportsmen's Club near here. The shoot will be held Thursday through Sunday.

Defending Class AA open champion is Bud June of Scottsbluff, who won the title last year in a shoot-off with Ken Rears of Lyons after both had broken 100 targets.

The 1955 Class A king is Jim McCole of Gering, who also broke 100 tragets.

Other titlists are Ivan Palmer of Wilsonville, Class B; N. J. Werne, Lake City, Kan., Class C; and George H. Burruss, Greeley, Colo., Class D.

McCole is the defending Open Handicap winner and Wayne Kennedy of Kimball won the Nebraska Doubles in a shootoff with Bill Nelson of Brady, after both had shattered 89 rocks for the Class A crown. W. F. Kentopp of Falls City won Class B.

Red Rolfe, Dartmouth's athletic director and a former Yankee third baseman, led the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League in stolen bases with 11 in 1931. He played for Dartmouth.

Brandt Singles In 11th To Give Cards 3-2 Win

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Rookie Jackie Brandt's eleventh-inning double drove in the winning run Wednesday night as the St. Louis Cardinals, after rallying in the ninth to tie with two out, defeated the New York Giants, 3-2.

Brandt, who carried across the tying tally in the ninth as a pinch-runner for Stan Musial, knocked in the winning marker off Johnny Antonelli, New York's fourth pitcher, after a pinch single by Hank Sauer off loser Hoyt Wilhelm and a walk to Grady Hatton.

The Cardinals, finishing with only six hits to the Giants' nine, sent the contest into overtime at a time when righthander Ruben Gomez had held them to two hits and struck out nine. With two away in the ninth Musial doubled to left and Ken Boyer's single sent Brandt across the plate.

While Wilhelm absorbed his third defeat against no victories, 41-year-old Ellis Kinder, unbeaten in the National League, achieved his second triumph as the third St. Louis pitcher. He worked the final three frames after Jim Konstanty, making his debut with the Redbirds, hurled two scoreless innings.

The Giants scored their runs off starter Tom Poholsky. In the second inning Willie Mays walked, stole second and tallied on Don Mueller's first of three hits. Then in the sixth Foster Castleman, who had entered the lineup when Henry Thompson was beaned, walloped his fourth homer.

St. Louis, held to one scratch hit for six innings, finally counted in the seventh on a walk and Wally Moon's two-out double on which Mays' outfield throw struck Moon rounding second and caromed off, permitting Boyer to score an unearned run.

Thompson, wearing a plastic helmet, compulsory in the National League, was struck just above and behind the right ear in the fourth inning. He fell to the ground, and was carried off on a stretcher and taken to Jewish Hospital. Following study of wet X-rays, which were negative, Dr. I. C. Middleman, the Cardinals' team physician, said the New York third baseman appeared to have suffered a "severe" concussion. The doctor said he planned to keep the player in the hospital "a couple of days" for observation.

Yanks Snap Four-Game Loss String

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees Wednesday cracked their four-game losing streak, defeating the Kansas City Athletics 10-5 but Mickey Mantle, for the second straight day, failed to crack Lou Boudreau's exaggerated version of the "Ted Williams shift."

The Yankees, powered by home runs off the bats of Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron, mauled five Kansas City hurlers for 12 hits to give Bob Grim, their starter, his third triumph without a defeat. Tom LaSorda, a lefthander, started for the A's and was routed in the third as the Yankees soared to an 8-0 lead.

Mantle, got one hit—a first-inning single—in five times at bat. Only twice, however, did Manager Boudreau employ his new "rock-and-roll" shift on the Yankee slugger with practically everybody shifting to the right. They came in th sixth and eighth innings when Mantle was the first hitter. In each instance, a righthander was on the mound for Kansas City and the switch-hitting Mantle batted lefthanded.

Sioux City Rally Is Halted By Appeal Play; Hawks Win

SIOUX CITY, Ia. (AP) — An appeal play that produced the game-ending out cut short Sioux City's last ditch rally in the ninth Wednesday night as Topeka took an 8-5 victory.

Trailing by 8-3 entering the ninth, the Soos finally began to solve the offerings of Reliefer Stew Alton, who had put down a fourth-inning uprising that produced the three earlier runs.

Art Burnett lived on an error, then Ken Landenberger hammered a home run over the right field fence to start the ninth. A single by Rocky Brown, a hit batsman and a walk, sandwiched around a strikeout, filled the bases with one away and prompted Topeka Manager Buddy Bates to bring Tom Mulcahy to the mound.

Don Catchot flied deep to left and Brown apparently scored after the catch. However, Topeka tossed the ball to third and appealed to Umpire Max Stone who agreed with the Hawks that Brown had left the base before the catch and called Brown out.

Long Hits 16th Homer To Spark 8-2 Buc Win

CHICAGO (AP) — A three-homer attack, including a two-run clout by Dale Long, his 16th, and a three-run blast by Frank Thomas, Wednesday swept the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates to an 8-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Roberto Clemente also slammed a bases-empty homer, his first of the season, as the amazing Pirates won their 25th game against 17 defeats to stay ahead in the hot National League race.

Righthander Ron Kline took his fifth decision against three defeats as he scattered six Cub hits. The loser was starter Paul Minner, now 1-5, who was followed by three reliefers—Vito Valentinetti, Sam Jones and Jim Davis. The Cub mound quartet was raked for 14 hits.

Long, whose RBI total was boosted to 43, pulled a muscle in his left leg after singling in the third and was replaced at first base by Bob Skinner. The injury was reported slight and the National loop homer leader is expected to play in Thursday's series finale against the Cubs. Long hit his homer in the first for a 2-0 Buc lead.

Outfielder Thomas made his first start as a third baseman and responded with two singles and his 11th homer in the fifth after Lee Walls walked and Skinner singled.

White Aids Bosox Win

BOSTON (AP) — Boston, powered by Sammy White's second two-run single of the game, landed on tiring Paul Foytack for three runs in eighth inning Wednesday and a 5-4 victory over Detroit. The loss snapped a seven-game Tiger winning streak.

Red Sox righthander Tom Brewer was credited with his eighth victory against a lone setback but needed relief from Ike Delock in the ninth when the Tigers scored twice and threatened to pull it out.

Brewer, outpitched by Foytack in the middle innings, held a 5-2 lead going into the ninth with a seven-hitter. After fanning Frank House, Tommy walked pinch-hitter Wayne Belardi and surrendered a single to pinch-hitter Charlie Maxwell. After Harvey Kuenn singled home the third Tiger run, Delock was waved in.

English Derby To French Lavandin

EPSOM, Eng. (INS)—Lavandin, French-owned three-year-old favorite, charged through the rain in a thrilling stretch run Wednesday to win the 177th English Derby in a photo finish.

Second by a neck was Montaval, only American-owned horse in the race, with an Irish entry, Roistar, third another two lengths back in the mile-and-a-half gallop over the hilly Epsom course.

Princess Margaret, wearing a pale lilac frock and a white silk coat, the Queen Mother and other members of the royal family braved the heavy rain to see the classic, which determined the distribution of millions of dollars in Irish Sweepstakes prize money.

Queen Elizabeth, whose colt, Atlas, ran out of the money, listened to a broadcast of the race aboard the yacht Britannia, on which she and Prince Philip are en route to Sweden for the Olympic equestrian games.

Lavandin was sent off a 7-to-1 favorite by the colorful crowd thronging the betting enclosures. Montaval, also a French-bred horse purchased only a few days ago by retired American publisher Ralph B. Strassburger of Norristown, Pa., was a 40-to-1 long shot.

250 To Vie In State Meet

DONIPHAN, Neb. (AP)—Some 250 shooters are expected here for the 78th annual meeting and tournament of the Nebraska State Sportsmen's Club near here. The shoot will be held Thursday through Sunday.

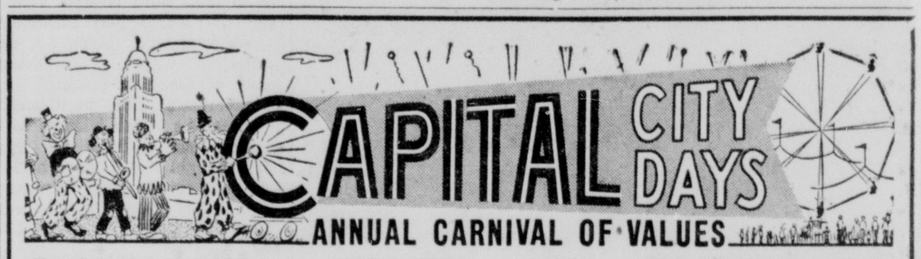

Defending Class AA open champion is Bud June of Scottsbluff, who won the title last year in a shoot-off with Ken Rears of Lyons after both had broken 100 targets.

The 1955 Class A king is Jim McCole of Gering, who also broke 100 tragets.

Other titlists are Ivan Palmer of Wilsonville, Class B; N. J. Werne, Lake City, Kan., Class C; and George H. Burruss, Greeley, Colo., Class D.

McCole is the defending Open Handicap winner and Wayne Kennedy of Kimball won the Nebraska Doubles in a shootoff with Bill Nelson of Brady, after both had shattered 89 rocks for the Class A crown. W. F. Kentopp of Falls City won Class B.

Red Rolfe, Dartmouth's athletic director and a former Yankee third baseman, led the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League in stolen bases with 11 in 1931. He played for Dartmouth.

Basilio-Machado Fight Finally Set -But At New Site

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The off-again, on-again 10-round bout between ex-welterweight champion Carmen Basilio and Cuba's Felix Machado finally settled down Wednesday — but at a new site.

Matchmaker Jack Laken said the scrap would be held Monday night, June 18, at the Dayton Motor Speedway. Previously it had been scheduled for both June 9 and June 16 at Troy's Hobart Arena, but was delayed as Basilio's handlers pleaded for more time to get their boy in tiptop shape.

Heart Attack Kills Young Swim Star

NEW HAVEN (AP) — John Glover, 23, of Larchmont, N.Y., a former Dartmouth swimming star, collapsed and died in the practice pool in Yale's Payne Whitney Gymnasium Wednesday.

At Grace-New Haven Hospital where he was reported dead on arrival, Glover was said to have apparently died of a heart attack.

A 1955 graduate of Dartmouth, Glover was said by Yale officials to have come here to practice for the forthcoming Olympic trials. He won the National AAU freestyle championship in 1955 with 49.8 seconds.

Stomach Virus Sidelines Score

BALTIMORE (AP) — Pitcher Herb Score's tummyache was diagnosed Wednesday as the result of a virus, and he missed his starting assignment for the Cleveland Indians against the Baltimore Orioles.

Manager Al Lopez tapped Art Houtteman to replace Score in the game.

Score became ill during Tuesday night's game here. At first it was thought he was a victim of his own appetite, said by his teammates to be a big one.

Dr. Erwin Mayer, Oriole team physician, who made the virus diagnosis, ordered blood and X-ray tests of Score and also recommended he spend Wednesday night in Union Memorial Hospital.

Swingfest Activities Start Today

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Golf activity at the Lincoln Country Club picks up Thursday in preparation for the third annual Swingfest, slated for Friday and Saturday.

Practice rounds will be the order of the day Thursday and a stag dinner will be held at 6 p.m.

Some 85 teams are expected to compete in the two-day, 36-hole contest, according to Erv Rucklos, general chairman. It will be a medal play, handicap affair.

Defending champions Lee Chapin and Rod Smith of South Sioux City are back for a crack at a triple crown. Chapin and Smith have won top honors in the past two outings.

Foursomes will tee off from 8 a.m. to 2:15 Friday and Saturday.

Capping the festivities will be a dinner-dance at the club Saturday night.

Among the teams taking part in the Swingfest will be:

Pete Elliott and Chalmers (Bump) Elliott of Iowa City, Ia., Chick White and Bill (Rocky) Mueller of Omaha, William Kinsey and Jack Seaver of Kansas City, Mo., Phil Sidles and George Smaha of Grand Island, Burnham Yates and S. N. Wolbach of Grand Island.

C. W. D. Kinsey and Jack Allgaier Sr., of Omaha, Ted Sick and H. R. Berglund of Denver, Colo., Ted O'Shea and Dave Mitten of Fremont, Jerry Bush and Bob Beard of Fort Wayne, Ind., Lyle Holland and Frank Bender of Omaha, Joyce Ayres and L. Dale Mathews of Omaha.

Harry Meginnis and Bruce Allen of North Platte, Bill Rolfsmeyer and L. B. Hayden of Denver, Colo., R. D. Latsch and Harold Keitemeyer of Beatrice, R. H. Lau and William Detweiler of Grand Island and Wyman Kenagy and J. B. Weston of Beatrice.

Starting times will be announced Thursday afternoon, Rucklos announced.

Basilio-Machado Fight Finally Set -But At New Site

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The off-again, on-again 10-round bout between ex-welterweight champion Carmen Basilio and Cuba's Felix Machado finally settled down Wednesday — but at a new site.

Matchmaker Jack Laken said the scrap would be held Monday night, June 18, at the Dayton Motor Speedway. Previously it had been scheduled for both June 9 and June 16 at Troy's Hobart Arena, but was delayed as Basilio's handlers pleaded for more time to get their boy in tiptop shape.

Heart Attack Kills Young Swim Star

NEW HAVEN (AP) — John Glover, 23, of Larchmont, N.Y., a former Dartmouth swimming star, collapsed and died in the practice pool in Yale's Payne Whitney Gymnasium Wednesday.

At Grace-New Haven Hospital where he was reported dead on arrival, Glover was said to have apparently died of a heart attack.

A 1955 graduate of Dartmouth, Glover was said by Yale officials to have come here to practice for the forthcoming Olympic trials. He won the National AAU freestyle championship in 1955 with 49.8 seconds.

Stomach Virus Sidelines Score

BALTIMORE (AP) — Pitcher Herb Score's tummyache was diagnosed Wednesday as the result of a virus, and he missed his starting assignment for the Cleveland Indians against the Baltimore Orioles.

Manager Al Lopez tapped Art Houtteman to replace Score in the game.

Score became ill during Tuesday night's game here. At first it was thought he was a victim of his own appetite, said by his teammates to be a big one.

Dr. Erwin Mayer, Oriole team physician, who made the virus diagnosis, ordered blood and X-ray tests of Score and also recommended he spend Wednesday night in Union Memorial Hospital.

HST Shakes Hand Of Spy Saved By Him

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Harry Truman shook hands here Wednesday with a Nazi spy he saved from the gallows.

Erich Gimpel, the former spy, shook Truman's hand and thanked him for "saving my life."

Truman wished Gimpel good luck and, with a smile, admonished him not to try the same thing again.

Gimpel, 45, was put ashore on the coast of Maine early in 1944 by a Nazi submarine. He was captured a month later. He was sentenced in 1945 to hang but Truman as president commuted his sentence to life. Gimpel served 10 years in various U.S. prisons, then was deported to Germany last August. He told reporters last month he had turned down a job as an interpreter with the U.S. Army.

The Trumans spent six hours in Munich. It is Truman's first visit to Germany since he attended the Potsdam conference in 1945.

Davis Fund Of $150,000 Is Denied

. . . Wisconsin Politics

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The man who has been quoted as saying that Wisconsin industrial leaders are pledged to raise a $150,000 campaign fund in behalf of Rep. Glenn Davis, Republican-endorsed candidate for U. S. senator, denied Wednesday that he ever mentioned such a sum.

Robert Dalton, Brookfield, friend of Davis and a Waukesha County delegate to the recent state convention in Milwaukee that endorsed Davis over incumbent Sen. Wiley, made the denial to John Wyngaard, Capitol correspondent for the Green Bay Press-Gazette.

Dalton's reported statement widely publicized, has become the theme of the 72-year-old senior senator's angry charge that he was unfairly repudiated by the "kingmakers" of the state Republican organization in his bid for party support for a fourth term.

Spread Nationwide

Wyngaard quoted Dalton as saying:

"The figure of $150,000 was never mentioned. I never mentioned there was any need for that much money. The only one I talked to in regard to financing was William Grede (Milwaukee industrialist and finance chairman of the state GOP organization). When you talk finances he's the guy you want to talk to."

Body Recovered From Missouri

OMAHA (AP) — Army Engineers Wednesday recovered the body of a man from the Missouri River near the mouth of the Platte River.

Sarpy County Sheriff Ernest Armp said the body appeared to have been in the water for a month or more. He said a social security card bearing the name of Albert Mark was found on the body. The clothing included work clothing and a leather jacket.

Neither Omaha nor Council Bluffs police records listed any missing person from this vicinity by that name.

ADM. JOY DIES; KOREA TRUCE CHIEF

Adm. Joy

His widow, Martha Ann, said Joy had been suffering from the disease for four years. He was admitted to the hospital Tuesday.

A native of St. Louis, Mo., Joy graduated from the Naval Academy in 1916 and returned to be come its superintendent in August 1952. He retired in July 1954.

During World War II, Joy commanded the USS Louisville, a cruiser division, an amphibious group and finally Task Force 73 in Chinese waters. He also commanded the U.N. naval forces during the Korean War.

Services will be held at the Naval Academy Wednesday. Burial will be in the Academy cemetery.

Besides the widow, Joy is survived by two sons: Lt. Charles Turner Joy Jr., USN, and Army Capt. Duncan Joy and a daughter, Miss Mary Martha Joy of San Francisco.

Johnson Reported In 'Good' Condition

LEXINGTON, Neb. (AP) — University of Nebraska Regent Frank M. Johnson of Lexington was reported in "good" condition Wednesday at a hospital where he was taken after a Monday evening auto crash.

A car driven by Johnson and one driven by Clarence Weber, Cozad, were in collision three miles east of Cozad. Johnson's car was coming from the north and turned onto U. S. Highway 30.

$211,000 In Gems Swiped

NEW YORK (AP) — Three uniformed gunmen wearing dark goggles waylaid two employes of a gem brokerage firm Wednesday and robbed them of $211,000 in diamonds.

The victims were Albert C. Schmitt, 32, East Fayson Lakes, N.J., and Eugene Epsky, 27, New York.

Schmitt, secretary of the Traders Service Corp., was carrying a gun. The bandits apparently knew that as one of them warned him:

"Don't go for that gun."

The two brokerage men had left a Lower Manhattan appraiser's shop to make diamond deliveries to five firms when the gunmen accosted them.

The pair were forced into a cellar off Sixth Ave., in Greenwich Village and bound hand and foot. The gunmen used their own belts and adhesive tape for binding. Then they taped the two men's mouths.

The bandits wore uniforms resembling the dark blue ones worn by subway conductors. They also wore peaked caps.

The two brokerage men freed themselves within minutes after the bandits fled.

Taken by the bandits were two briefcases, contining five packages of cut diamonds and four of uncut ones. The wallets of the two brokerage men also were lifted, but the gunmen discarded these before fleeing.

Davis Fund Of $150,000 Is Denied

. . . Wisconsin Politics

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The man who has been quoted as saying that Wisconsin industrial leaders are pledged to raise a $150,000 campaign fund in behalf of Rep. Glenn Davis, Republican-endorsed candidate for U. S. senator, denied Wednesday that he ever mentioned such a sum.

Robert Dalton, Brookfield, friend of Davis and a Waukesha County delegate to the recent state convention in Milwaukee that endorsed Davis over incumbent Sen. Wiley, made the denial to John Wyngaard, Capitol correspondent for the Green Bay Press-Gazette.

Dalton's reported statement widely publicized, has become the theme of the 72-year-old senior senator's angry charge that he was unfairly repudiated by the "kingmakers" of the state Republican organization in his bid for party support for a fourth term.

Spread Nationwide

The Dalton report originally appeared in the Milwaukee journal and was picked up throughout the nation.

Wyngaard quoted Dalton as saying:

"The figure of $150,000 was never mentioned. I never mentioned there was any need for that much money. The only one I talked to in regard to financing was William Grede (Milwaukee industrialist and finance chairman of the state GOP organization). When you talk finances he's the guy you want to talk to."

OMAHA (AP) — Army Engineers Wednesday recovered the body of a man from the Missouri River near the mouth of the Platte River.

Neither Omaha nor Council Bluffs police records listed any missing person from this vicinity by that name.

$211,000 In Gems Swiped

NEW YORK (AP) — Three uniformed gunmen wearing dark goggles waylaid two employes of a gem brokerage firm Wednesday and robbed them of $211,000 in diamonds.

The victims were Albert C. Schmitt, 32, East Fayson Lakes, N.J., and Eugene Epsky, 27, New York.

Schmitt, secretary of the Traders Service Corp., was carrying a gun. The bandits apparently knew that as one of them warned him:

"Don't go for that gun."

The two brokerage men had left a Lower Manhattan appraiser's shop to make diamond deliveries to five firms when the gunmen accosted them.

The pair were forced into a cellar off Sixth Ave., in Greenwich Village and bound hand and foot. The gunmen used their own belts and adhesive tape for binding. Then they taped the two men's mouths.

The bandits wore uniforms resembling the dark blue ones worn by subway conductors. They also wore peaked caps.

The two brokerage men freed themselves within minutes after the bandits fled.

Taken by the bandits were two briefcases, contining five packages of cut diamonds and four of uncut ones. The wallets of the two brokerage men also were lifted, but the gunmen discarded these before fleeing.

Most Grains End Somewhat Higher

CHICAGO (AP) — Most grains closed higher on the board of Trade Wednesday despite moderate hedge selling in nearby wheat contracts.

July and September wheat futures started higher but later fell back under hedging action and some profit taking. Resting order demand, however, cushioned the moderate declines.

The rest of the market resisted selling pressure pretty well.

Wheat closed ¼ lower to ¼ higher, corn unchanged to 1¼ higher, oats ¼ to ¾ higher, rye ¼ lower to 1¼ higher, soybeans 2¢ lower to 1¢ higher, and lard 13 to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher.

At the start of Wednesday's trading session, some grain traders attributed resumption of the harvest in the Southwest for the decline in wheat.

Toward the end, however this discounted the expanded harvest as a bearish factor on the theory that with prices now at about the new loan levels, sales of free wheat will fall off sharply in the event of a decline in values.

Soybean prices were mixed. The July contract continued to show independent strength, affected by dwindling supplies together with strength in soybean oils and a firm soybean meal market.

Most Grains End Somewhat Higher

CHICAGO (AP) — Most grains closed higher on the board of Trade Wednesday despite moderate hedge selling in nearby wheat contracts.

July and September wheat futures started higher but later fell back under hedging action and some profit taking. Resting order demand, however, cushioned the moderate declines.

The rest of the market resisted selling pressure pretty well.

Wheat closed ¼ lower to ¾ higher, corn unchanged to 1½ higher, oats ⅛ lower to ¾ higher, rye ¼ lower to 1¾ higher, soybeans 2¾ lower to 4½ higher and lard 13 to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher.

At the start of Wednesday's trading session, some grainmen attributed resumption of the harvest in the Southwest for the decline in wheat.

Toward the end, however, they discounted the expanded harvest as a bearish factor on the theory that with prices now at about the new loan levels, sales of free wheat will fall off sharply in the event of a decline in values.

Soybean prices were mixed. The July contract continued to show independent strength, affected by dwindling supplies together with strength in soybean oils and a firm soybean meal market.

Stock Prices Sag Quietly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market Wednesday was the subdued type, with prices sagging quietly.

Losses sometimes went to around $2, but most were fractional. Many gains were scattered throughout the list in key places, but they also were small.

Business transacted made it the third slowest day this year.

The market in recent days has been under the spell of traders and others who are holding off to see whether the rally of the past week will continue or whether the market will test the old lows in a quick reaction before going ahead.

You will recall that a strong rise topped out in April, and a steep three-week reaction was snapped off a week ago Tuesday with the strongest single day's rally of the past 17 years.

Wednesday the market was a little higher right at the opening, then it headed down most of the rest of the day. Just before the close, some support appeared and brightened the picture slightly.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 80 cents at $178.70 with the industrial component off $1.00, rails down 80 cents, and utilities off 30 cents.

Volume amounted to 1,460,000 shares, third lowest of 1956. That compares with 1,650,000 Tuesday.

The American Stock Exchange was lower on volume of 640,000 shares, compared with 620,000 Tuesday.

Housing Chief Albert Cole Finds No Evidence Of Fraud In FHA

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole said Wednesday a check of Federal Housing Administration activities, prompted by recent congressional criticism, "discloses no evidence of windfalls, fraud or corruption in our current operations."

Sen. Byrd (D-Va) told President Eisenhower by letter three weeks ago that audits of the offices in several cities, made by the General Accounting Office, disclosed that "the elements which breed housing scandals still persist."

The senator said the GAO report revealed "irregularities and inefficiencies" in FHA offices in New York City, Kansas City and Cleveland, and in 22 slum clearance projects in 15 cities.

Cole's statement Wednesday declared that "full check" of the operations indicates there is "no substantial danger" of a recurrence of the "windfall" profits which some apartment project promoters gained from FHA - insured mortgages in the postwar rental housing program.

Pocketed

The project sponsors obtained mortgages exceeding actual construction costs and pocketed the difference.

Cole said criticisms of the Cleveland, New York and Kansas City offices related mainly to the need for increased supervision of the offices by FHA.

The Washington office, he said, "has taken and is continuing to take steps to bring out about necessary improvements" of the type requested.

Basic Questions

Criticisms of slum clearance and redevelopment projects, Cole went on, arose generally from cases in which the GAO felt federal housing officials should increase their supervisory and advisory services to local agencies.

This involves "some fairly basic questions of federal-local relationships," Cole said, as well as questions as to the proper extent of federal influence on local bodies. He added:

"I can say that over-all, I do not as yet find any serious disagreement between this agency and the GAO on our operations in this program."

Banker Visits Here

Officers and directors of the Continental National Bank were host to Adrian M. Massie, chairman of the board of the New York Trust Co., at a dinner Wednesday evening at the Lincoln Country Club. Massie conferred with bank officials during his half-day visit to Lincoln.

Housing Chief Albert Cole Finds No Evidence Of Fraud In FHA

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole said Wednesday a check of Federal Housing Administration activities, prompted by recent congressional criticism, "discloses no evidence of windfalls, fraud or corruption in our current operations."

Sen. Byrd (D-Va) told President Eisenhower by letter three weeks ago that audits of the offices in several cities, made by the General Accounting Office, disclosed that "the elements which breed housing scandals still persist."

The senator said the GAO report revealed "irregularities and inefficiencies" in FHA offices in New York City, Kansas City and Cleveland, and in 22 slum clearance projects in 15 cities.

Cole's statement Wednesday declared that "full check" of the operations indicates there is "no substantial danger" of a recurrence of the "windfall" profits which some apartment project promoters gained from FHA - insured mortgages in the postwar rental housing program.

Pocketed

The project sponsors obtained mortgages exceeding actual construction costs and pocketed the difference.

Cole said criticisms of the Cleveland, New York and Kansas City offices related mainly to the need for increased supervision of the offices by FHA.

The Washington office, he said, "has taken and is continuing to take steps to bring out about necessary improvements" of the type requested.

Basic Questions

Criticisms of slum clearance and redevelopment projects, Cole went on, arose generally from cases in which the GAO felt federal housing officials should increase their supervisory and advisory services to local agencies.

This involves "some fairly basic questions of federal-local relationships," Cole said, as well as questions as to the proper extent of federal influence on local bodies He added:

"I can say that over-all, I do not as yet find any serious disagreement between this agency and the GAO on our operations in this program."
